BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The navy reported today that two new raids had been carried out on Japanese airfields in the Solomons area and that a "possible hit" had been scored on a Japanese transport.

(By Associated Press)

Soviet quarters reported today Russian troops ad advanced within 75 miles of the great German ase at Rostov, pivot for all Nazi operations in the 'aucasus, and ripped through German lines on a 0-mile front along both sides of the lower Don river.

Front-line reports said Russian troops sweeping 'estward along the Don had pushed forward 50 iiles since capturing the Don bridgehead of Tsimansk two days ago.

Soviet dispatches said the triumphant Red armies of ie south had captured at least 21 more cities and towns id listed 339,150 Axis soldiers killed or taken prisoner nce the start of the Russian winter offensive Nov. 19.

Adolf Hitler's high command, still giving the German 'ople no hint of the disastrous turn of events, asserted flatly that azi infantry and tanks "repulsed all Soviet attacks in continued ghting in the Don and Kalmyck sectors."

City's Postal Employes to Go on 48-Hour Week Saturday

Mansfield will have Saturday afternoon postal service and mail delivery for the first time in 20 year beginning this week when the Mansfield postoffice goes on a 48-hour-a-week schedule in compliance with a new federal ruling for government employes.

Approximately 90 postal clerks, city carriers and parcel postmen are affected by the order received from the U. S. postoffice department today by Herman E. Homberger, postmaster. Other federal offices affected here by the order are those of the Internal Revenue department and Civil Service commission, both located in the postoffice building, and the USES office at 50 North Diamond street.

Under the new ruling which adds eight hours to the former 40-hour schedule, postal employes will receive time and a-half pay for this extra period Postal hours Saturday will be the same as those during the remainder of the week.

The ruling also adds a Saturday afternoon schedule to the hours of the Internal Revenue, Civil Service commission and USES headquarters. Instead of closing at noon the Internal Revenue and USES office will remain open until 5 p. m. and the Civil Service commission office until 4 p. m.

Extended Saturday hours for all offices located in the postoffice building are expected to facilitate the procedure of customers who can henceforth conduct their postal transactions and file income tax returns on the same afternoon that they generally devote to marketing.

Schools, Stores In East Hit by Fuel Oil Slash.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Schools, stores, restaurants and theaters today faced the necessity of shortening hours or even closing a day or two a week as result of a drastic east coast fuel oil slash which followed the announcement by OPA of a ban on pleasure driving of nearly 8,000,000 motorists in the same area.

Even churches, war plants and government buildings—federal, state and municipal—were affected by the order which reduced by 25 per cent the amount of all fuel oil rations allowed for heating non-dwelling space in the 17 eastern states and the District of Columbia.

The gasoline and fuel oil orders, designed to ease the worsening Atlantic seaboard petroleum supply situation, went into effect today.

HEAVIER SNOW DUE FOR CITY

Hazardous Driving Causes Minor Collisions; Two Schools Still Closed.

More snow is forecast for the Mansfield area tonight and Friday following the 2.25-inch fall which started late yesterday, causing one costly truck collision and several minor mishaps as drivers were blinded by the storm, but a rising temperature eased the pressure on coal bins and fuel oil supplies.

Corgo trucks driven by Jasper Smith, Atlanta, Ga., and Marvin Maynard, Akron, were damaged badly when they crashed at 2.30 a. m. today on a hillside of U. S. Route 42 seven miles north of Mansfield. State highway patrolmen reported heavy property damage but both drivers escaped injury.

In Mansfield non-injury collisions were reported by police during the night between autos driven by Salley Parrott, Lexington, andBates Lewis, Dayton, on South Park street; Peter Pasheilich, Mansfield R. D. 5, and Gerold Fry, Lexington, on South Main street near Winwood drive; John P. Hardesty, 237 Parkway drive, and Thomas Earhart, 32 North Franklin avenue, on North Main street; and Ralph Fingfeld, 63 East Raleigh avenue, and Edwain Williams, Akron, on Park avenue west.

20 INDICTED, JURY NO-BILLS SHOOTING CASE

No Charge Returned Against Salesman After Gun Play At Apartment Home.

4 CHARGES SECRET

Defendants Named in 16 Other Cases To Be Arraigned In Court Saturday.

The Richland county grand jury returned 20 indictments in 24 criminal cases they investigated during a two-day session concluded yesterday after questioning of 59 witnesses.

Four of the bills were held secret pending arrest of persons named in the indictments. Persons involved in the 16 other indictments will be arraigned for pleading in common pleas court at 9 a. m. Saturday.

Acting County Prosecutor John C. O'Donnell said the grand jury reviewed four other cases but did not vote indictments in them. One of these cases, O'Donnell said, was that of Robert M. Allen, advertising salesman for Richland Inc., operators of radio station WMAN.

Allen had been bound over to the grand jury on a charge of pointing and discharging a firearm without malice toward his wife, Jeanette.

At the time of his arrest on Nov. 24, police said Allen fired a gun through the bathroom door of his home in the Zediker apartments, Bartley and Woodward avenues. His wife had locked herself in the bathroom after Allen flourished a gun while they were quarreling.

Police, who were summoned to the home by neighbors, said that when they arrived Allen threatened to shoot at them through the Small Supply of Canned Food Won't Reduce Coupons.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Housewives who register for war ration book No. 2 next month won't have coupons deducted for moderate amounts of canned or frozen foods they may have on hand.

Harold B. Rowe, director of the food rationing division f the office of price administration, revealed the plan to allow a small carryover at a discussion of the new point rationing system last night.

Rowe said he was not ready to disclose what the government would consider a moderate amount of canned or frozen food.

He explained the decision to allow small children the same number of ration stamps as adults was made on the basis of administrative difficulties which would be encountered under another method.

President Says Foe Asked for It, Will Get It

Reveals Million and Half U. S. Men Now Fighting Abroad, Praises Output Of Arms In His Address To Congress.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt, in a fighting speech before the 78th congress, today pledged to the American people that the Axis and Fascist enemies in Europe and Japan will be bombed and smashed in their own countries.

"The Nazis and the Fascists have asked for it—and they are going to get it," the president declared in a spirited and stirring address before congress on the state of the union.

The president declared that while he could not for military reasons disclose where the United Nations would strike next in Europe, "we are going to strike—and strike hard."

While he said he would "not prophesy when this war will end," Mr. Roosevelt asserted that this congress, with its two-year span, "may have the historic privilege of helping greatly to save the world from future fear."

Commenting on the Japanese the president declared that the growing American might "will become evident to the Japanese people themselves when we strike at their own home islands, and bomb them constantly from the air."

For the United States forces, the president said that the period of defensive action in the Pacific is passing and "now our aim is to force the Japanese to fight.

"The period of our defensive attrition in the Pacific is passing," the president said. "Now our aim is to force the Japanese to fight. Last year, we stopped them. This year, we intend to advance."

In his message the chief executive disclosed there are now one and one-half million United States soldiers, sailors, marines and flyers in service in foreign areas throughout the world. During 1942, he related, the American armed forces grew in size from 2,000,000 to 7,000,000 men and officers.

Turning his attention to the domestic front, Mr. Roosevelt told congress and the nation through the radio networks that "our forward progress in this war has depended upon our progress on the production front."

The president asserted that the 1942 goals of war production were met for the most part, although "some people, including some experts, thought that we had pulled

WANT SHARE IN PEACE PLANNING

Congressmen Favor Study of Post-War Aims; Plan Gets Strong Backing.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Strong congressional sentiment for a study of peace aims and plans for post-war reconstruction developed today with indications that an independent-minded congress may demand a voice in preparations for a United Nations victory.

The demand gathered unusual force because it sprang from members of the senate and house and groups which have been bitterly opposed on questions of foreign policy in the past.

Sen. Thomas (D.) Utah, staunch administrator supporter, called for a congressional study of peace aims and said he may introduce a resolution to this effect.

While congressional leaders planned to study President Roosevelt's annual message before charting a program, individual members and groups began clamoring for action upon major questions.

The demands ranged from creation of a super war board to "streamline" the war effort, taking control of all activities except actual fighting operations, to proposals for scrap-

Carry Off Pinball Machines 36 Hours After Owner Dies

Only some 36 hours after Chester E. Nail, proprietor of the Chet Nail novelty company had died, thieves broke into his place of business and stole four pinball machines, police reported today.

Mr. Nail died at 4:30 a. m. Tuesday. His place of business, 54 East Third street was broken into some time Wednesday night.

Discovery of the robbery was made by Earl Bates, manager of the Fairview hotel, which adjoins the Third street address, when he noted a broken window in the distributing agency shop. Patrolmen Floyd Bowers and John Grohul, investigating, found that after the thieves gained entrance through the window the rear door was opened to permit removal of the machines.

Meanwhile, Joe Saprano, North Main street cigar store owner, who was fined $100 and costs for County Sales Tax Receipts $551,073 Against $721,696.

With 1942 sales tax returns for Richland county virtually complete, collections for the year dropped at least $170,623 below the 1941 figures, State Treasurer Don Ebright's report showed today.

Receipts in the county to Dec. 26, leaving only four business days in the year unreported, totaled $551,073 as against $721,696 to the corresponding date in 1941.

Collections showed the biggest decline during the last half of the year, nearly every week falling behind the corresponding week of 1941. Receipts for the week ending Dec. 26 amounted to $12,766. In the corresponding week of 1941, collections totaled $16,031.

Only a few counties, including Allen (Lima), Marion, Montgomery (Dayton), and Summit (Akron), centers of war industry, reported sales tax gains for the year.

DRIVER HELD

Charged With Reckless Operation After School Bus Crash.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— William Hicks, 27, Cleveland, driver of a truck which figured in the Worthington school bus upsetting, was to be bound over to the grand jury today after pleading not guilty to a reckless operation charge before Mayor Leonard Insley of Worthington. His bond was set at $100.

Thirty-three children, ranging in age from 6 to 12 years, were shaken up, cut and bruised, when the bus overturned in North High street, near the north city limits of Worthington.

Dr. Crile, Surgeon Famed for Research on Life, Dies at 78

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Dr. George Crile, 78, renowned surgeon-scientist, died today at the Cleveland clinic where he had been under observation for the past three weeks.

Death occurred at 9 a. m., and was caused by a heart ailment. He entered the hospital for treatment Dec. 16, but physicians several days ago abandoned hope for his recovery.

Recognized internationally for his surgical skill, Dr. Crile was known to scientists primarily for his more than 50 years of research work on the nature of life and the loss of energy that attended death.

Bromfield's 'Mrs. Parkington' Superb Job, AP Reviewer Says

Appearance of a new book by Richland County's Louis Bromfield always creates a stir in the literary world and books critics are busy now writing their opinions of "Mrs. Parkington," Bromfield's latest novel, which was published yesterday.

Early reviews call it one of his best and his first "big novel" since his India series which included "When the Rains Came" and "Bombay Nights."

John Selby, book reviewer for the Associated Press, describes "Mrs. Parkington" as "technically, a superb job without seeming so." Selby's review follows:

The first big novel of 1943 is Louis Bromfield's "Mrs. Parkington." It is also Mr. Bromfield's first big novel since his Ind' series, one of the richest he has produced, and a technical tour de force of extraordinary shrewdness. It is difficult to think of any American who can handle the limitations and advantages of the novel form more skillfully than Mr. Bromfield.

In the strict sense, nothing much happens in "Mrs. Parkington," and yet there is a great deal of action and all the contrast one could ask. Mrs. Parkington is an old lady in

DEBRIS REVEALS STORY OF 'BUZZ' WAGNER'S DEATH

Flier Credited With Shooting Down 15 to 20 Japs Died In Plunge, Says Officer.

(By International News Service)

EGLIN FIELD, Fla. — Lieut. Col. Boyd D. "Buzz" Wagner, 26, one of America's first air heroes of this war who disappeared on a routine flight Nov. 30, met his death when his plane got out of control and plunged into the ground from a steep spin, evidence of the wreckage indicated today.

Discovery of the air hero's crushed body in the wreckage of his plane near Freeport, Fla., 25 miles from Eglin field, was announced last night by Brig. Gen. Gardner Grandison, commanding officer of the air base.

The body of Col. Wagner, who was credited with shooting down from 15 to 50 Japanese warplanes, was found crushed in the wreckage of his P-40 pursuit plane in which he disappeared while on a flight between Eglin field and Maxwell field, Ala., according to the general's statement.

"The plane was totally wrecked and partially buried, indicating that it had plunged into the ground out of control and probably from a steep spin," Gen. Grandison said.

"Identification was made by means of a wallet and other papers found on the remains of the pilot which were crushed in the plane."

The famous war ace, who was a native of Emeigh, Pa., near Johnstown, was one of the youngest lieutenant colonels in the U. S. army. His exploits over the skies in the Philippines, Australia and New Guinea have become almost legendary.

As a first lieutenant in the Philippine campaign, he was awarded the distinguished service cross for extraordinary heroism, and later was decorated with the purple heart for being wounded in action.

In his DSC citation he was credited with having shot down five Japanese warplanes in close combat and having led his squadron against an enemy beachhead at Vigan where many enemy aircraft were destroyed.

Col. Wagner was commissioned June 16, 1938 after completing his flying training at Randolph field, Tex. Previously he studied engineering at Pittsburgh university.

ANNUAL MEETING

Guernsey Breeders To Hear Talk by O. S. U. Speaker.

PUPILS FORM COMMANDO CLUB

Fifth Graders At Newman To Help Enforce Rules at Work and at Play.

Boys and girls of Newman school's fifth grade have organized to do their bit for the home front by organizing a Junior Commando club to help enforce rules in the classroom and on the playground and in every other way promote good citizenship.

Organization of the club was completed yesterday after a spokesman's group approached Miss Helen Bein, fifth grade teacher, with the idea. Blair Myers, 12, a Boy Scout belonging to the troop meeting at Newman street fire station, instigated the idea and will serve as one of the two sergeants appointed in the boys' division.

Although working for a common cause the pupils will operate in two divisions with the girls having their own officers. Frank Plaut was elected colonel of the boys' division. Robert Kvochick was named sergeant along with Myers, and Paul Lape and Robert Rutan were appointed as military police.

The girls named Virginia Bowie as their colonel and increased the number of sergeants and military police to six. Norma Long, Elizabeth Harich, and Marilyn Hammer were appointed as sergeants and Donna Boyer, Dorothy Hildebrand and Rosetta Deck as military police.

All members will wear arm bands made of muslin and imprinted with the letters J. C. They will all continue the work of salvage and will purchase war stamps with all funds from the sale of scrap.

Plans to hold frequent meetings and invite speakers were launched at the initial session in the school auditorium last night when Jessie Beer, Newman principal, addressed the group.

INFANT DIES

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Charnock Succumbs at Birth.

Stephan Charnock, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Charnock, 219 Chilton avenue, died shortly after birth Wednesday afternoon at General hospital.

In addition to his parents, surviving are a sister, Emily, eight years; a brother, Emil, two; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Stephan, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and a grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Charnock of Mansfield.

The body was removed to Finefrock funeral home. Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 1 p. m. in Newcumberland, W. Va.

NAMED PAGES

Richard Sowash, Jack Dugger To Serve In Assembly.

A Mansfielder and a former Mansfielder have been named pages in the Ohio general assembly, it was learned here today.

The Mansfielder is Richard Sowash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sowash, 301 Sloane avenue. He is a senior in the college of commerce at Ohio State university, and has been named a page in the house.

Jack Dugger, Mansfield high basketball star before he moved to Canton, and now a member of the Ohio State cage varsity, has been named a page in the senate.

ANNOUNCE PROGRAM TO REDUCE ABSENTEEISM IN WAR PLANTS

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND — A plan to reduce worker absenteeism in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky war plants through encouragement of production drive committees and use of check lists was announced today by the regional war manpower commission.

Absenteeism check lists to show days worked by employes will be made available to plants with war orders, and labor-management groups in each plant will be urged to undertake drives for increased output.

Declaring that neither management nor labor alone can correct absenteeism, Robert C. Goodwin, WMC regional director, said a wide variety of causes could be removed through employer-employe cooperation.

The remedial plan was devised after a preliminary study of records in 45 plants employing 210,000 workers revealed the degree of absenteeism ranged from three to six per cent on the basis of daily averages.

Studies revealed the following causes of absenteeism: job shopping and piracy; illness; lack of information regarding the employe's work and its relation to the finished product and its importance in winning the war; long hours; excessive overtime; wages and war-time prosperity; inadequate housing and transportation; lack of carefully planned production; women remaining at home to perform household duties; and lack of good supervision.

MEETING OFF

Postpone Council Finance Till Tonight.

When it developed yesterday afternoon that a full attendance would be impossible last night, Chairman Russell Porch of city council's finance committee postponed until today at 7:30 p. m. a meeting to consider the 1943 appropriations ordinance which will come before the whole body next Tuesday night for final consideration.

Other members of the finance group are C. N. Shultz of the Second ward and Michael Mihalick of the Fourth ward.

Fred Miller of the Fifth ward is chairman of the salary committee, with Paul Bush of the Sixth and Porch (First ward) as members. It is understood that tonight's finance committee will have the cooperation of the salary group in determining city cash adjustments necessary to provide pay increases for virtually all municipal employes.

THIEVES GET CASH

ASHLAND — Thieves gained entrance to the Art Sponseler and Son meat market Wednesday night and obtained $64 from the cash register. They had ripped the boards off a backroom window to gain admittance, police said.

Laff-a-Day

"PLEASE don't go in, darling. You might be TORPEDOED!"

Local stamp collectors will add another commemorative stamp to their collection, Jan. 14, when the postoffice department in Washington, D. C., issues a new two-cent United Nations stamp. The stamp, which will replace the two-cent National Defense stamp as soon as stocks are exhausted, is printed in red ink and has as its central design a symbolic of victory. This symbol depicts an uplifted palm branch at the apex, of a triangular shaped procession of swords held upright. Along the lower edge of the stamp is the inscription "Nations United for Victory" in Gothic lettering.

Today may be only the seventh day in the new year to most Mansfielders but to the local colony of native Serbians who adhere to the old Biblical calendar it is Christmas. Because there is no organized group and the local members are scattered the celebration will be confined within the family although in several cities there will be gala festivities attended by hundreds. Mrs. Dora Markov, 269 North Diamond street, is among the residents, who will observe the day by baking and preparing other dishes traditional to the Serbian holiday.

Installation of fluorescent lighting fixtures in many of the City Hall offices is welcomed by clerks who have been working over figures (in the books, of course) under old-style illuminating equipment and arrangement. Thus far the mayor's office and reception chamber, the office of Service Director Fred B. Wolff, City Clerk Robert Black, the finance offices and municipal court offices have been equipped with the new type installations. Early objections that the new type illumination appeared to add an appearance of age to some facial features or a mortuary pallor to the rooms have vanished. The city clerk's office also has been refurnished by the installation of new furniture and the shifting of old.

NEW CLASS

Air Raid Wardens Dine, Hear Plans For Course.

Following a dinner meeting attended by 75 air wardens of the Third ward last night at Fifth street school it was announced that all wardens and other civilian defense workers in the city who have not obtained first aid certificates can enter a class starting the evening of Jan. 14.

The open class will meet in its first session at 7:30 p. m. next Thursday in defense headquarters, third floor of City Hall.

At last night's Third ward get-together Chief Warden Glenn W. Marriott addressed the sectional wardens and a message was brought from the state defense council by Philip Ward, district officer of the Ohio organization. Ward furnished some details of the forthcoming state-wide dim-out and blackout tests.

Ray Ward was in charge of the dinner meeting. Remarks were supplied by W. E. Bradford, zone leader.

BABY SUCCUMBS

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Griffits To Be Buried Saturday.

Maude Griffits, eight-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ordney Griffits, Pawnee avenue in Roseland, died this morning following complications developing from pneumonia. She was born May 23, 1942, and is survived by eight brothers and sisters besides her parents.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Church of God and burial will be in Mansfield cemetery. The body is at the Jones Memorial.

BROTHER DIES

Mansfielder Learns of Demise of Rev. W. C. Neibarger.

Mrs. Charles P. Barr, 695 Harter avenue, was informed yesterday of the death of her brother, Rev. W. C. Neibarger, 62, at Venice, Fla. He had been in ill health for several months.

Rev. Neibarger, a former resident of Mansfield, came here from a pastorate in Cambridge and while living in the city filled the pulpit of the Five Points church. He went to Florida in 1938. He had also been a railroad engineer.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at Newark.

LEADERS SEE PLAN VOTED BY MARCH 15

Congress Favors Modification Of Ruml Month-by-Month Collection Program

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Passage of a "pay-as-you-go" tax bill by March 15 was forecast in congress today with experts expressing belief that the legislation will probably incorporate modified aspects of the Ruml plan.

The concensus on the house ways and means committee, which must originate the measure, is that hearings likely will start about Jan. 20 with the treasury department willing to forgive at least a part of a year's income taxes to place collections on a month-to-month basis immediately after March 15.

Sentiment for the pay-as-you-go plan advocated by Beardsley Ruml, New York executive, is judged in congress as on the increase, with some high administration leaders now favoring his proposals.

The opening day of the new congress saw numerous bills introduced based on Ruml's suggestion that the government forgive a year's taxes to get the program under way at the earliest possible moment.

Rep. Doughton (D.) N. C., chairman of the ways and means committee, declared today that "we are going to have to put a pay-as-you-go bill through as soon as we can."

Rep. Reed of New York, ranking Republican on the committee, expressed similar convictions, while Rep. Knutson (R.) Minn., another member, predicted that "the bill will be on the president's desk by March 15."

A fourth member, Rep. Carlson (R.) Kan., forecast that the measure will "be at least a modification of the Ruml plan.

"I think most members are convinced that two years of taxes cannot be collected in one year," he said. "The American people just can not foot the bill.

Carlson has introduced a bill incorporating the Ruml plan. It would provide that the taxes due March 15 be considered the total tax bill for 1943 and would provide for payments on a monthly basis after that date. Thus if a person pays the first quarter of his taxes on March 15, the remaining three quarters would be collected monthly. He then would pay his 1944 taxes in 1944 as he received his income, instead of a year later as at present.

You Can't Sue Ball Club for Night Hit Either

COLUMBUS —(INS)— A professional baseball club is not responsible for injuries to a spectator struck by a batted ball at a night game, the second district appellate court had ruled today.

In a split decision the court threw out the appeal of Carl H. Hummel, (846 S. Fifth street), a guard at Ohio penitentiary, who sued the Columbus baseball club of the American association for $10,000 for injuries he received on Aug. 13, 1941. It was the first such suit in Ohio involving a night game.

Hummel contended that the club was negligent in failing to protect the left field bleachers where he was sitting with adequate screens, that it failed to shield the "blinding" lights, and that it failed to arrange the lights in such a manner that he could not see the ball coming toward him.

The 2-to-1 decision held that a patron assumes risks incident to the game when it is played in daylight and that the same principle prevails at night.

Westies Upset City League Leading Globe Steel Five

Sport Podge by Rex Hess

Here's a letter received during my flu-enforced absence which should give quite a boot to Mansfield softball fans and Coolridge golfers.

It's from Jimmy Musille, Coolridge manicurer of meadows and long-clouting driver, and also courageous little hurler for the Ohio Public Public Service team which met Westinghouse for the city softball championship last summer.

Private Jim writes from Fort Dix, N. J.:

Hi Rex: I am dropping you a few lines to let you know I'm still reading your sport sheets. I was home last week and I went up to see Fred Huntsman. He was still smoking those cigars. I was looking through some pictures they had of him, and in every picture he was smoking a cigar or holding it.

* * *

Do you think he sleeps with a cigar in his mouth when he goes to bed. I'm beginning to think he does.

Fred was telling me he has been fixing up the course for next year for you pros. Well, Rex, don't break the course record. You know, I wish Fred would make the holes a little bigger so I could sink one putt when I get out of the army.

I played one round of golf up here and I didn't do so hot. I had a 46-39 on a par 36-36 course. But it wasn't the fault of the course that I had a bad score. I couldn't putt! But I had a couple of good drives.

I guess you'd like to know what I'm doing in this army. Well, I'm a clerk in a P.X.

I do a lot of selling behind a counter from 11 in the morning until 10 at night, so you can see I haven't much time for anything but writing a letter once in a while.

And I'd better close this one so I can go to work. Well, till I see you.

Your pal.

Artoe Gets Chance To Tell Layden

CHICAGO —(NS)— Joe Artoe, 230-pound tackle of the Chicago Bears, was expected today to have an opportunity to explain to Football Commissioner Elmer Layden criticism he assertedly voiced in connection with the All-Star game in Philadelphia Dec. 27.

Layden declined to confirm the report he had summoned Artoe to appear at 4 p. m. today for an interview, but conceded that "I imagine I'll be seeing Artoe sometime."

Artoe was reported as severely critical of the action of the league in scheduling the All-Star game at a time which would prevent the participating players from going home for the holidays.

He also was quoted as defending Sammy Baugh of the champion Washington Redskins for not showing up at the All-Star game.

Artoe, a chemical engineer, has told friends that he is through with professional football and intends soon to join the navy.

Gives Ruling on Baseball Status

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Baseball playing is not essential to winning the war and no occupational draft deferments will be granted to players even if they are stars who might bring the pennant to their clubs, war manpower commission Chairman Paul V. McNutt ruled today.

McNutt, in an explanation of baseball's status under the manpower program, said that sports and kindred professions such a acting are useful as morale builders, but not essential.

If a player works in a war industry during the off season and is deferred, he would lose his essential status when he returned to baseball, a spokesman said.

BOBCATS EDGED BISHOPS

DELAWARE —(AP)— Ohio University defeated Ohio Wesleyan 53 to 37 in a basketball contest last night. The Bobcats went out front early in the game and led 26-12 at the half.

Defending Champions Come Back

Yuncker Sports Again Beat Athletic Supply

By WALLY DAVIS

WESTINGHOUSE continued its great comeback in the City league race last night, edging the the first place Globe Steel quintet, 30 to 26 on the Y.M.C.A. hardwood.

After trailing 8 to 7 at the end of the first quarter, the Westies cut loose with a 12-point spree in the second to grab a commanding lead of 19-12 at the half.

The Steelers started out in impressive fashion with Prion, Popovac and Elliott dropping in buckets early in the first stanza. Vogel accounted for Westinghouse' first score, a free toss, and Poole sank two sucker shots, followed by a side bucket by Bayer, putting the winners in front 7-6. Prion of Globe Steel scored on a suckers shot as the period ended.

Breaking an 11-all tie midway in the second, the Westies fired in ten points before the Steelers could score again to build up a 12-12 margin. Lockhart, Globe Steels foreward got a pair of buckets late in the quarter, but Poole and Vogel hit for Westinghouse and the third period ended 26 to 16.

The Steelers wouldn't admit defeat. Trailing by eleven points they staged a desperate rally late in the fourth quarter, scoring nine points in the last three minutes of play. But it wasn't quite enough and the Westies had their third straight win in the bag.

Yuncker's bdoke a two-game losing streak, defeating the Aahletic Supply, 34 to 25 in another league tilt.

* * *

The score at the end of the first quarter was 9 to 6. Yunckers leading. Each team scored six points in the second making it 15-12 at the half.

An 11-point splurge in the third decided the game in favor of Yunckers.

Wade had ten points to pace Yunckers while Eichler had eleven for the Supplies.

NBA Disagrees On Champions

Recognizes Frozen Titles of Service Men

NEW YORK —(NS)— The National Boxing association was on record today as being in complete disagreement with the N. Y. boxing commission concerning three "world's champions" and with a new policy by which fighters now in uniform will continue to be rated so long as there is a chance of them fighting, if only intermittently.

The NBA declares the lightweight title, formerly held by Sammy Angott who retired, "vacant"; recognizes Pittsburgh Jackie Wilson as featherweight king and Manuel Ortiz, California, as bantam king. By contrast the N. Y. commission recognizes Beau Jack of Augusta as 135-pound champion. Jack is rated "leading contender" by the NBA.

The N. Y. board says Willie Pep is 126-pound boss by virtue of his win over Chalky Wright and does not recognize anyone as bantam king. This group of swat swamiis formerly recognized Lou Salica, N. Y., as champ but withdrew recognition when he failed to defend the crown within six months as the local law requires.

In these quarterly ratings the decision to rate the more prominent fighters in uniform was arrived at in order "to avoid possible injustice to them."

Corp. Billy Conn was rated the logical contender for Sgt. Joe Louis' heavyweight title while Jimmy Bivins, Cleveland; Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati; Billy Soose, U. S. Navy, and Anton Christoforidis, a Greek, were rated logical contenders for the light-heavyweight title.

Slugger White of Baltimore, who defeated Willie Joyce of Chicago, Monday night, is rated No. 1 on a list of 10 logical contenders for the right to box Jack for Angott's vacated title.

SCHOOLBOY CAGERS ENLIST IN NAVY

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A sharp-shooting Medina county basketball team is turning its eyes from the hoops toward the Axis.

Five first-string cagers from Hinckley high school appeared at the navy's recruiting station here yesterday and volunteered en masse for sea service.

The 18-year-old members of the Hinckley quintet, current holders of Medina county's class B scholastic championship, said they had obtained releases from their draft boards, had passed their physical examinations and expect to enter the navy next Monday.

Florida Race Card Folds

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Fifteen hundred thoroughbreds were stranded here today by the closing of the Miami race tracks, leaving owners and trainers in a quandary about what to do with animals that go on eating even though there are no more purses to win.

The Florida racing season folded yesterday after the Office of Price Administration announced a ban on all autotomobile pleasure driving.

Tropical park called off its meeting after 15 days of operations, and Hialeah park decided not to attempt a season in the face of the drastic gasoline curb.

One dog track—the Hollywood oval—suspended, but others in the state hung on temporarily in the hope they could get by with the patronage of bettors who would ride public conveyances, or walk.

For the big racing stables, backed by wealthy sportsmen, the closing presented the alternatives of shipping horses to northern farms, sending them to New Orleans where the Fair Grounds track is operating, or stabling them here until the eastern plants are scheduled to open in the spring.

The smaller stables, which operate on a hand-to-mouth basis and depend upon picking up a couple of purses to pay the costs of moving from one track to another, faced a far more serious problem.

There were troubles ahead, too, for many stable hands, exercise boys and other lesser employes who had no reserve funds to tide them over.

Vitally affected, along with stable employes, were more than 1,000 persons who work at Miami tracks during their meetings.

Despite gasoline rationing, a dearth of tourists and other wartime handicaps, Tropical had been operating at virtually a self-sustaining level since the Dec. 21 opening.

Sport Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Mel Ott was a visitor yesterday and re-enacted the scene of a year ago, when he was introduced as the new manager of the Giants—a double-row of sports writers gathered around Eddie Brannick's big desk while Mel took over the club secretary's chair, tilting far back and looking with steady eyes at each questioner as he tried to come up with the answers. . . . He was sure the Polo Grounds wouldn't be suitable for training.

Across the street at the Yankees' office Ed Barrow, whose appearance gives you the exact meaning of "beetle-browed," was able to give a more advanced report on the training situation. . . . He had spent the morning telephoning various places along the New Jersey coast and the pine belt and had arranged for Scout Paul Kirchell to inspect them today.

PICKUPS.

The reason for opening the major league season on Wednesday under the revised schedule, is that Good Friday falls in the first week. Clubs that want to skip that day can either complete their first series or delay the home opening until Saturday. . . . The 140-game season, which Barrow favored, failed adoption at the Chicago meeting because of the opposition of two National league clubs.

If a cop should come along and say no swimming allowed, they'd all scram and be glad for the chance."

Seek Baseball Training Sites

Zanesville Bids For Pittsburgh Pirates

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

NEW YORK — (AP) — Major league baseball's biggest searching party since Joe DiMaggio lost his favorite bat was on today as officials scattered in all directions to find spring training sites within an A-card's distance of their home grounds.

Undaunted by the OPA ban on pleasure driving in eastern states, the clubs proceeded on the theory that enough customers can get to the ball parks in public conveyances to make the 1943 season worthwhile.

Carrying out the plan adopted Tuesday to hold spring training without any unnecessary travel, officials of most of the clubs began beating the brush for practice facilities that will be close enough for convenience and still warm enough for comfort.

Paul Krichell, New York Yankee scout, crossed the Hudson to New Jersey to look over prospective camps at Asbury park, Lakewood and New Brunswick.

Mel Ott, manager of the Giants, and President Horace Stoneham decided to go north and look for a college field house in New England or upstate New York.

President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers has an eye on the field house at Yale university, but so has the army.

The World Champion St. Louis Cardinals and their American league neighbors, the Browns, are considering several cities in Missouri, but St. Louis isn't one of them. They will train together.

President Clark Griffith of the Washington club said the Senators might stay at home and use an indoor arena when the weather gets bad.

Zanesville, O., is after the Pittsburgh Pirates, but President Bill Benswanger said that city was only one of a dozen being considered. The Bucs won't train at Pittsburgh, but Benswanger insisted they would be "not far from home."

Large indoor athletic plants at Amherst college and Phillips Andover academy are among the most satisfactory sites being investigated by the Boston Braves.

A trio of Cleveland Indian officials will leave tomorrow to look at field houses of several Ohio colleges, including Marietta, Wittenberg and Ohio university.

Cincinnati officials don't want the Reds to train at home and would prefer to be near one or more other major league teams. That may take them to Indiana.

The Chicago Cubs and White Sox will train at French Lick Springs, Ind., and the Detroit Tigers will pitch camp at Evansville, Ind. The Boston Red Sox also have their initial worries of the season behind them. They selected Tufts university at Medford, Mass., for a training base.

ASSOCIATION STICKS TO BIG LEAGUE PLAN

CHICAGO —(AP)— The American Association will adhere to major league spring training plans and condition its 1943 baseball teams close to home.

The league decided this decision yesterday when it also adopted a 154-game schedule opening April 29 and closing Sept. 19. The start is 16 days later than last season and the finish is one week later.

Richland Cage Race Resumed

Butler Leads Race With Three Straight Wins

Richland county high school cagers take out in pursuit of the league leading Butler Bulldogs tomorrow night, with three games booked on the circuit bucketball card.

Butler, with three victories and no defeats, is being pressed by Lucas with two wins and no losses, and Madison, with one victory and no defeats.

Lucas is idle tomorrow night, but Madison can gain some ground when the Rams meet Lexington's Minutemen at Madison. Lexington has an even-Stephen rating with a victory over Shiloh and a defeat to Bellville.

Union plays at Shiloh tomorrow night, and Plymouth at Ontario.

Three Bucyrus High Cagers Dismissed

BUCYRUS — Dismissed from the squad because they refused to return home from Galion with other members of the basketball team last Friday night, Bucyrus Redmen will be without three of its first stringers for the remainder of the season, Coach Nick Wasylick announced today.

Those requested to turn in their suits were Harold Smith, center, and John Landis and Oliver Blackburn, guards.

CATCHER DIES

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—Don M. Benintendi, 40, who played baseball during the '20s in the American Association, Texas league and other circuits, died Wednesday.

COMMUNITY SURVEY ANSWER FORM

(Copyright, 1941, Wid Gunning)

EACH DAY OF THE WEEK .... TO ....

NAME ....

ADDRESS ....

On Page 1 of the paper each day you will find a list of the advertisements to be checked that day.

All you have to do is to decide each day which Large Ad, which Medium Ad and which Small Ad you think will do the advertiser the most good. Just write three names on this blank each day.

$750.00 in awards go to those readers whose selections are nearest to what the majority of readers think. Every week is a separate survey with a dozen or more cash awards each week.

Every member of any family may send in one answer each week and there are many awards each week, but only one award for a good answer will go to any one family in any one week.

I THINK THESE ADS WILL DO THE ADVERTISERS THE MOST GOOD.

	LARGE ADS	MEDIUM ADS	SMALL ADS
Sun.
Mon.
Tues.
Wed.
Thurs.
Fri.
Sat.

You are NOT required to write a letter to receive an award.

The awards are decided on the selections above. We would really appreciate it, though, if you would write a note saying what you DO NOT LIKE and . . . also . . . WHY YOU LIKED some of the good ads.

We sincerely want your suggestions and ideas of how we may improve our advertising service for your benefit. Write your letter in your own way! It's the thoughts and suggestions that matter. You are not being "judged" by your letters. Actually they have nothing to do with the awards . . . but . . . they will be helpful by giving additional information to our merchants.

Your criticisms and suggestions will be given to the merchants to help them to improve their advertisements BUT the merchants will NOT be given the names of those who write the letters. This is so you may say just what you really think without embarrassment.

Answers Must Be In By Tuesday Midnight The Week After the Selections Are Made!

MR. MANSFIELD MERCHANT?

Are You

Going Out FOR BUSINESS

Or Simply Going Out OF Business?

Said the Merchant to the Salesman - - -

"Look here, what does your company mean, advertising when you know you can't supply all the demand as it is, under war conditions?"

The salesman looked around the store. A well-laid out establishment, wide aisles, clean attractive floor, good lighting, shelves neatly stocked—except that in some places there were gaps where items had been sold out, and other places where only a few items of a number remained.

Noticing the salesman's glance lingering on these empty places, the merchant explained quickly that those should be filled—by items he couldn't get enough of these days.

"I guess you'll be cutting down on the number of customers trading here, then?" said the salesman.

"What do you mean?" asked the merchant.

"Well," the salesman answered, "you seem to be in the same spot my company is in—you can't supply all your customers with everything they want, as you used to. So you're going to stop looking for new customers.

"I guess you're going to turn off the lights on your sign out in front—that will make a lot of people think you're going out of business; maybe you're going to tell your clerks not to be courteous to customers as they used to, so anybody who happens to drop in won't want to come back; and I know you'll be taking your number out of the telephone book, since all your old customers know the number and you won't be wanting new customers who will ask you for things you no longer can supply them."

"You're all wrong, mister," replied the merchant. "I won't be doing anything of the kind. I worked hard to bring this store up to this point, and I'm not letting it slip now. I'll never get anywhere—in fact, I'll go backwards—if I don't keep trying to get new customers all the time."

The Merchant went on, "and besides, that store down the street, where people might go if they don't trade here, isn't any better off for stock than I am; he's got thin places on his shelves too—I know that! And if I don't keep pitching he's going to slip in and beat me out, getting those new customers and stealing my old ones."

"Sure," the salesman said, "you're hanging on to your customers. You're angling for all the business you can get. If people are going to trade anywhere you want them to trade with you, even if you have to disappoint them occasionally. And that's just the way my company feels about its customers, too"

"We're not going to be able to supply everybody with all they want—and neither are most other manufacturers—but we're going to be able to supply a lot of people with most of what they want. And we aren't letting down in our advertising, either. If people are going to buy any product of the varieties we manufacture, we're going to see to it that they keep on wanting our brand, even if they can't get it for the duration.

"Then, when the war is over and we can pack all we can sell—then we'll get the benefits from all this hard plugging right now.

"You might call advertising now, INSURANCE for business in the future, insurance against somebody else slipping in and stealing our business, pushing their merchandise while we're not pushing ours. You might call advertising now, PROSPERITY Insurance."

"And remember," the salesman added, "Every bit of demand we can build now is going to boost your turnover when goods are plentiful again."

Your Federal Income Tax

(Editor's Note: Because of the sweeping changes in the income tax laws covering 1942 income, more than usual importance attaches to this series of articles, prepared by the U. S. treasury department, bureau of internal revenue. Other articles, many of which deal with the new provisions, will follow.)

NO. 4—PERSONAL EXEMPTION

Every individual is allowed a credit against his net income which varies with his domestic status, that is, whether he is (a) a single person, (b) a married person living with husband or wife, or (c) a head of family. This credit is known as personal exemption, and is shown on line 21 of the return Form 1040. The amount of the personal exemption also varies depending upon the period during which the taxpayer occupied the particular exemption status.

The personal exemption for a single person is $500 for the year; for a married person living with husband or wife, $1,200; and for a "head of family," $1,200. (Personal exemption as head of a family has no effect on liability to file a return.) For federal income tax purposes, widows, widowers, divorcees, and married persons separated by mutual consent, as well as persons who have never been married, are classed as single persons.

A head of family is defined as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation."

A single person, or a married person not living with husband or wife, may, therefore, enjoy a head of family exemption under certain conditions.

Taxpayers using a simplified return (which is permitted if the gross income for the year is $3,000 or less and derived solely from earnings from employment and, or from dividends, interest, and annuities) obtain personal exemption based on their status as of July 1 of the year. Thus, a taxpayer married and living with husband or wife on July 1 is entitled to $1,200 personal exemption on Form 1040A; if he were a widower on July 1, his exemption would be $500, irrespective of the date on which he became a widower. The amount of the exemption is not deductible from the income but is reflected in the amount of tax shown in the table on the reverse side of the form.

Taxpayers using return Form 1040 obtain personal exemption proportionate with the number of months during which the particular status is held. Thus, for a person who married on July 1 (who was not a head of family prior to his marriage), the personal exemption would be $850 ($250 for the six months as a single man, plus $600 for the six months as a married man). In this example it is assumed that the wife has no income.

Married persons may, however, file joint returns, even though one has no income, and by filing a joint return a couple married during the year may obtain an exemption to which they would be entitled for the period of married status, plus the amount of their individual exemptions prior to their marriage. In the example given the total exemption in a joint return would be $1,100 ($250 for each spouse for six months plus $600 for six months married status).

If a husband and wife living together both have income and file separate returns on Form 1040, the personal exemption applicable to a married person may be taken in the return of either or divided between them in any way as they may agree, but the total personal exemption taken in the two separate returns may not exceed $1,200.

In World war I, 98,950 New Zealanders served overseas, suffering casualties of 58,501.

CHANGE 'DIET' FOR RATS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. —(U.P.)—Owing to war shortages, the city has been obliged to change the diet for rats in its rat extermination campaign. Formerly they were fed poisoned bacon, but City Physician Geiger states they now are dying with equal facility on a diet of poisoned cheese and cake.

ZOO GETS RECORD HOPPER

SAN DIEGO, Cal. — (U.P.) — A Valley Wallaby, which is a sort of hopping cousin of the Kangaroo, and native of Australia, has just been added to the San Diego zoo, after the longest hop any member of his species has ever made. He made the hop from Australia here in an airplane.

LIQUOR SUPPLY FOR OHIO IN '43 UNCERTAIN

Taylor Asserts War, 'Runs' and Flood Interfere With Service.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS — The 1943 future of liquor supply in Ohio is just as uncertain as the effect of liquor.

State liquor director Jacob B. Taylor, the worried little man trying to keep the stocks in state stores up to demand, said today consumers face an up and down year in 1943.

Three factors have combined to reduce Ohio's liquor stocks to their lowest ebb since the 18th amendment was thrown out in 1932.

The most important factor, of course, is the war, he said. With accelerating demands of the armed forces for more and more alcohol for the machines of war, distilleries are forced to be content with only a fraction of their pre-war supplies. Alcohol is derived almost exclusively from grain, a commodity almost as precious as gunpowder in waging modern war.

As the victory graph of America's armies swings upward and brings more conquered peoples into the ranks of those who must be fed by America in accordance with the president's promise, diversion of grain to distilleries must slump.

The second factor bearing on the Ohio liquor situation is the recent holiday "run" on the spotty supplies which the liquor division did manage to obtain to fill the gaps on the shelves of state stores.

Taylor estimated that holiday demand was from 25 to 30 per cent above normal demand.

This abnormal demand, coupled with the fact that new supplies are at a premium, has left many outlets with shelves practically empty of most popular-priced brands.

Finally, just as holiday demands were subsiding, the Ohio river flood cut Ohio off from liquor sources in Kentucky and Indiana, denying state stores a badly needed chance to stock up.

Even supplies on hand could not be delivered to stores in the flooded areas. Many southern Ohio stores have only meager supplies of the higher-priced liquor brands available.

"Only one thing is certain in 1943," Taylor said, "and that is that there'll always be liquor. The popular brands naturally are going to be hard to get, but the state stores always will have something available."

Taylor had no word to say about his recent proposal for a carding system of liquor throughout the state. Recently administration spokesmen had said that rationing would not be necessary in the state.

GIVE OLD BELL FOR SALVAGE

WASHINGTON — (AP) — When the Boston firm of Paul Revere and Sons repaired the old King's Chapel bell yoke in 1818 the Revere family did not know the yoke would serve in another war for freedom.

The metal yoke has been donated to the Boston Salvage committee by the trustees of King's Chapel, according to salvage drive officials.

OH, SURE- ANNIE'S TRAVELED A LOT- SHE'LL BE ALL RIGHT-
1-7-43
OF COURSE, IT'S NOT AS THOUGH MALCOLM MITT WERE NOT SO WELL KNOWN--FAMOUS, ALMOST--- WHY, I'VE READ HIS BOOKS FOR YEARS--
AND EVERYONE KNOWS HIM FROM HIS PICTURES- THAT BEARD! AND ANNIE SAYS HE AND WARBUCKS ARE OLD FRIENDS-
YES--APPARENTLY WARBUCKS IS COMING HOME FOR A BADLY NEEDED REST--WHAT BETTER PLACE THAN A SECLUDED CASTLE- OH, IT'S ALL RIGHT, I'M SURE--
OF COURSE, WE'LL ALL MISS ANNIE, BUT THINK WHAT A TIME SHE'LL HAVE-
YES- FROM WHAT I'VE HEARD, IT'S A REAL CASTLE- IT WOULD BE A DREAM COME TRUE FOR ANY YOUNGSTER--
OH, BOY! WHAT I'D HAVE GIVEN TO HAVE BEEN TURNED LOOSE IN A CASTLE AT HER AGE-

IRREGULARLY LOWER TREND HITS MARKET

Westinghouse Among Leaders Taking Dip In Early Stock Trading.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Irregularly lower price tendencies persisted in today's early stock market transactions.

Off fractionally to a point at a quiet opening were Western Union, U. S. Steel, Loew's, Westinghouse, Pennsylvania and American Smelting. Moderate advances were posted for American Telephone, American Tobacco "B," North American and Kennecott.

Holders of public utilities studied the summary of the Edison Electric Institute which estimated electrical energy distribution in the United States for the week ended Jan. 2 topped the comparable period a year ago by 14 per cent.

Boardrooms also scanned the Dun & Bradstreet survey placing bank clearings in 23 cities during the week concluded yesterday, which contained the new year's holiday, at 22.3 per cent above the same 5-day stretch last year. The total of $8,162,386,000 was only slightly under that of the record for 1942 established in the preceding 6-day week.

ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH AT 65

A. O. Schulte Succumbs at Home in Ashland.

ASHLAND — Andrew Otto Schulte, 65, local machinist, died at his home, 451 East Liberty street, Wednesday at 7.30 p. m. after an illness of several weeks.

Born in Ashland county Oct 11, 1877, Mr Schulte had lived in Ashland 23 years. He was employed as a machinist by the F. E. Myers' company and previously had been a farmer.

Surviving are his widow, Ethel M Schulte, two daughters, Mrs. Clara P Norris of Nankin, and Mrs Evelyn M Shaum of Ashland, and one son, Clarence M. Schulte also of Ashland. Seven grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Emma Dow of Mansfield, also survive.

The body was removed today from the Denbow and Bear funeral home to the residence where services will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. Frank L. Hicks officiating. Burial will be in Nashville cemetery.

fic perml points remained free of ice in a thawin tegmperature.

High temperatures during the 24-hour period ending at noon was 28 above zero, with a low of 20 for an average of 24 as compared to an 18-year average of 27.8. At noon the mercury stood at 28.

Pavonia and Union rural schools continued closed today as buses were still unable to travel county roads in the northern sector of Richland county. According to Howard Sword, county engineer, no drifting was reported from any area.

County streams which had left their banks due to snow thawing and incessant rains of the Christmas season are all back in bed and little menace exists unless more rain accompanies a rapid thaw of the new snowfall, auuthorities say.

LEGAL NOTICE

Ross Hazlett and Mary C. Hazlett, whose place of residence is unknown and the unknown heirs of Ross Hazlett and Mary C Hazlett will take notice that Mark Mandusic filed his answer and cross petition in the case of Ross Hazlett and Mary C. Hazlett vs. the Mansfield Wrecking and Material Company et al in the Court of Common Pleas Richland County, Ohio, alleging that there is due him from the said Ross Hazlett and Mary C. Hazlett, on an account for labor furnished the sum of $600.00 with interest thereon from the 18th day of December, 1940.

His said account being secured by a mechanics lien on the following described real estate, situate in the Township of Madison County of Richland, and State of Ohio, being lots numbered One (1) Two (2), and Three (3) in Broadview Park Allotment in said Township of Madison. Said lien being recorded in the mechanics lien records of Richland County, Ohio, Volume 10 and page 254 on the 12th day of February, 1941.

The prayer of said answer and cross petition asks that said mechanic lien be declared a valid and subsisting first lien on the above described premises and that the court determine the priorities of the lien of all parties to said suit, that the above described real estate be sold and the proceeds of such sale be distributed among the claimants according to the priorities as the same shall be determined by the court, and for all other and proper relief.

The above named Ross Hazlett and Mary C. Hazlett plaintiffs, or their unknown heirs are required to answer on or before the 8th day of February 1943 or judgment will be taken against them.

THREE CHEERS FOR YOU
from our men in uniform!

And thanks to you from Greyhound

for postponing your trip until after the Holiday rush

Thanks to you, a most critical period in wartime bus transportation has been passed with flying colors.

Just before Christmas, Greyhound asked you to "Give your Holiday trips to men in the service". And you who have learned to depend upon Greyhound for travel responded wholeheartedly.

Because you postponed such trips, thousands of men and women in the armed forces were able to go home by bus for Holiday leaves and furloughs. They thank you for the precious hours spent with loved ones — and Greyhound thanks you for cooperating so patriotically.

While helping men in uniform, you also made travel smoother and more convenient for war workers and others whose trips could not wait. It's cooperation like this that makes it possible for Greyhound and other bus lines to carry on the tremendous mass-transportation job so essential to winning the war.

Now that the Holiday rush is past Greyhound will make every effort to see that the service you count on is available when you need it—and with all the comfort and convenience that war conditions will permit.

We suggest, however, that you phone or call on your Greyhound agent well in advance of any trip. He can help you choose days and schedules that will be most convenient for you—and best for wartime travel.

Pulling together this way, we'll keep America's highways at work for Victory!

FDR PLEDGES TO BOMB AXIS ON HOME FRONTS

Reports Million and Half U. S. Men Fight Abroad, Praises Production.

some big figures out of a hat just to frighten the Axis."

During the year, the president disclosed that the United States produced 48,000 military planes—more than the airplane production of the Axis—56,000 tanks and other combat vehicles, 670,000 machine guns, 21,000 anti-tank guns, ten and a quarter billion rounds of small arms ammunition, and 181,000,000 rounds of artillery ammunition.

"The arsenal of democracy is making good," the president stated, adding that:

"These facts and figures will give no aid and comfort to the enemy. On the contrary, I can imagine, they will give him considerable discomfort. I suspect Hitler and Tojo will find it difficult to explain to the German and Japanese people just why it is that 'decadent, inefficient democracy' can produce such phenomenal quantities of weapons and munitions—and fighting men."

Mr. Roosevelt recognized that there has been "criticism of the management and conduct of our war production," but he declared that much of this "has had a healthy effect. It has spurred us on."

There is, however, "some criticism based on guesswork and even on malicious falsification of fact . . . (which) create doubts and fears, and weakens our total effort," he declared

After recounting the battle and the production progress of 1942, the first year of war, the president turned his attention to planning for the post-war years.

High on the list of war aims, the president placed the third of the four freedoms—freedom from want.

After the war, the president declared that the people of the United States 'expect the opportunity to work to run their farms, their stores, to earn decent wages. . . .

"They do not want a post-war America which suffers from undernourishment or slums—or the dole. They want no get-rich-quick era of bogus 'prosperity,' which will end for them in selling apples on a street corner, as happened after the bursting of the boom in 1929."

Emphasizing his disagreement with some of his advisers, the president declared that this was the "time to speak of a better America after the war. . .

"If the security of the individual citizen, or the family, should become a subject of national debate, the country knows where I stand.

"I say this now to this 78th congress, because it is wholly possible that freedom from want—the right of employment and the right of assurance against life's hazards—will loom very large as a task of America during the coming two years.

"I trust it will not be regarded as an issue -but rather as a task for all of us to study sympathetically, to work out with a constant regard for the attainment of the objective."

In reviewing the first war year President Roosevelt declared that "by far the largest and most important developments in the whole strategic picture of 1942 were the events on the long fronts in Russia: First the implacable defense of Stalingrad; and, second, the offensives by the Russian armies at various points which started in the latter part of November and which still roll on with great force and effectiveness.

"The other major events of the year were: the series of Japanese advances in the Philippines, the East Indies, Malaya and Burma; the stopping of the Japanese in the mid-Pacific, the south Pacific and the Indian oceans the successful defense of the Near East by the British counter-attack through Egypt and Libya; the American-British occupation of North Africa.

"Of continuing importance in the year 1942 were the unending, bitterly-contested battles of the convoy routes, and the gradual passing of air superiority from the Axis to the United Nations.

The Axis powers knew that they must win the war in 1942—or eventually lose everything. I no not need to tell you that our enemies did not win this war in 1942."

While American action in the Pacific was classified as "essentially defensive" during 1942, the president declared that "during this period we inflicted steady losses upon the enemy - great losses of Japanese planes, naval vessels transports and cargo ships. . .

We know that as each day goes by, Japanese strength in ships and planes is going down and down, and American strength in ships and planes is going up and up. The eventual outcome can be put on a mathematical basis. That will become evident to the Japanese people themselves when we strike at their own home islands, and bomb them constantly from the air."

In the coming offensive against Hitler and Mussolini in Europe, the president declared:

"I cannot prophesy. I cannot tell you when or where the United Nations are going to strike next in Europe. But we are going to strike—and strike hard. I cannot tell you whether we are going to hit them in Norway, or through the low countries, or in France, or through Sardinia or Sicily, or through the Balkans, or through Poland—or at several points simultaneously. But I can tell you that no matter where and when we strike by land, we and the British and the Russians will hit them from the air heavily and relentlessly. Day in and day out we shall heap tons and tons of explosives on their war factories and utilities and seaports.

"Hitler and Mussolini will understand the enormity of their miscalculations—that the Nazis would always have the advantage of superior air power as they did when they bombed Warsaw, Rotterdam, London, and Coventry. That superiority has gone—forever."

On the domestic front, the president lauded the war production achievements made during 1942 while the United States was actually withdrawing men from the ranks of labor and farms to build up the armed forces.

From this, the president declared was bound to arise "some dislocations in our normal, national life, some inconveniences and even some hardships.

"Who could have hoped to have done this without burdensome government regulations which are a nuisance to everyone—including those who have the thankless task of administering them.

"We all know that there have been mistakes mistakes due to the inevitable process of trial and error inherent in doing big things for the first time. We all know that there have been too many complicated forms and questionnaires. I know about that. I have had to fill some of them out myself."

While there have been "inconveniences and disturbances—and even hardships" in 1942, President Roosevelt declared that "there will be many, many more before we finally win. Yes, 1943 will not be an easy year for us on the home front. We shall feel in many ways in our daily lives the sharp pinch of total war."

President Roosevelt, in his speech, termed 1942 as the year of "perhaps the most crucial for modern civilization," but looked forward to this year as holding "high promise of better things" although he anticipated that it would be "filled with violent conflict."

EX-PROSECUTOR DIES

ASHTABULA—(AP)—Charles B. Cook, 77, former Ashtabula county prosecutor and city councilman, is dead.

Bromfield's 'Mrs. Parkington' Superb Job, AP Reviewer Says

her eighties, and we see her as she faces a series of crises in the life her family.

Her grandson-in-law, if that is a proper word, is about to go to jail for doing some of the same things her husband did a half-century before with impunity, and success. But this is only one thing: Mrs. Parkington's great-granddaughter is marrying "out of her class"; another family member is about to die of too much dope and too much liquor; another has married a fourth time and her cowboy husband is beginning to understand his insatiable wife—and so on and so on.

Mrs. Parkington is at the center of everything. She still has much money, but it is more important that she still has the integrity she brought with her to New York from Leaping Rock, Nev., 65 years before. Then she was a little sparrow, and Gus Parkington was a very rich man on the make. Year by year the little sparrow changed plumage, becoming more and more the woman of the world outside, remaining in herself the girl her clever husband saw when he first met her. This is her power and her defense.

Obviously, Mr. Bromfield has had to produce a social study of America through many decades as well as a novel. The events of Mrs. Parkington's 84th year move on one plane, and the story of the old lady's fabulous past must be told in a series of flashbacks. Mrs. Parkington is always seen as she is, against a set of moving pictures which show her as she became what she is. Mr. Bromfield has written out of his heart, but he has kept his wits about him too Technically the novel is a superb job without seeming so; it is fine and warming as well.

DR. CRILE, FAMED SURGEON, DIES

Noted for Research on Life And Energy Over Period of 50 Years.

trolling organs, led to new surgical methods and medical theories.

Dr. George W. Crile, gained fame as one of the world's foremost physicians and surgeons, a medical scientist who contributed greatly to the rapid advance of medical science and surgery in the United States.

He invented the system of blood transfusion now in universal use throughout the world, aided in proving adrenalin's value as a medicine and perfected the "nerve block" system of anaesthesia, whereby operations are performed without the shock to the nervous system previously associated with such work.

Highest honors from medical and surgical societies were bestowed upon him. America's "Who's Who" devotes a column to his achievements and the honors of which he was recipient.

Dr. Crile was one of the founders of Cleveland Clinic.

The scientist-surgeon's discovery of nerve block anaesthesia brought him his greatest fame, with most striking result noted in treatment of exophthalmic goitre. Briefly, Dr. Crile succeeded in proving that in the condition recognized as shock, definite changes occur in the brain cells which release all stored energy.

This exhausting discharge, he found, was due to excitation caused by infliction of numberless injuries, each of itself small, or to infliction of one overwhelming impression Effect of Doctor Crile's discovery is that the operation can be performed in an area which, for the time being, does not "belong" to the patient—that is, the patient cannot reach it by an impulse directed toward it—and which can be dealt with as the surgeon wishes with the patient powerless to receive any impression therefrom.

Dr. Crile was born in Chile, O., Nov. 11, 1864, was graduated from Ohio Northern and Wooster universities, and studied in London, Vienna and Paris before returning to practice in Cleveland. He wrote many books on medicine and surgery.

20 INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

door if they attempted to force entry. Hearing a shot fired they broke down the door and arrested Allen. They then forced entry into the bathroom to find that Mrs. Allen had crawled through a window to safety. Police reports said Mrs. Allen told them her husband had been drinking.

Probably most serious of the indictments returned were those against Douglas Bonecutter for his alleged offenses against Carrie McKinney, Dec. 27. He will be arraigned on the grand jury's counts of rape and robbery.

Richard Wymer, 19, who escaped from Richland county jail where he was being held pending the grand jury's action, was indicted for grand larceny in connection with a series of tire thefts. He is still at large. Tom McVey was charged with receiving the stolen property.

Grand larceny charges were voted against Grace Baker and Beulah Whitcombe in connection with the alleged theft of a fur coat from the Montgomery Ward store Dec. 5.

Jesse Williams, 34, colored, was charged with shooting with intent to wound as a result of an affray Jan. 2. William Lindsay, 48, also colored, who signed the affidavit on which Williams was arrested, remains in General hospital as a result of his injuries, which included loss of his right eye.

Three men were charged with operating motor vehicles without the owner's consent. They are: John Doe, alias W. L. Timmons and Bus Anderson, Charles Minner, and James Dale Davis, all of whom are held in the county jail.

Joseph Darnell King was ordered into court to answer a charge of breaking and entering in connection with the robbery of the Fred Herring garage, October 23.

An embezzlement bill was returned against Ernest Frith as a result of a $7341 shortage October 30 Wilfred L. Anderson and Eddie Kahill were charged with forgery.

Two men were charged with non-support They were. Emmett Heuberger and Charles Spicer.

Those besides Allen who were not indicted after their cases were considered included. Emma Burkes, colored, for stabbing with intent to wound, William Felter, manslaughter, and James Courtney, for entering a dwelling with intent to commit personal violence

The Burke woman was released last night from the Richland county jail where she had been held in default of $1,000 bond since Nov 18 when she was alleged to have stabbed Carl E. Carter, also colored. She said her home was in Newark but that she had been staying in this city for some time prior to the cutting affray.

After visiting the county jail and writing their approval of conditions there the grand jurors, who were headed by James Bailey, chairman recommended to the board of commissioners that the women's quarters of the jail be enlarged and that a safe detention place for the insane be established.

The jurors were dismissed shortly after 5 p m.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SOVIET DRIVE PUSHES AHEAD TOWARD ROSTOV

German Lines Ripped Along Don; Nazis Claim Gains In Tunisia.

don, asserted that 30 American parachute troops were dropped behind the German lines in North Africa last Sunday night with orders to blow up a large bridge. The broadcast said 20 were killed and the rest captured.

On the Russian front, the headlong Nazi retreat appeared rapidly assuming the aspects of a debacle.

London quarters said the speed of the Soviet come-back drive through the Caucasus indicated that the Germans were no longer offering organized resistance, and were intent only on setting up a defense line nearer Rostov in an attempt to prevent the Russians from trapping all their forces to the east.

A Soviet war bulletin said the Red armies, hotly pursuing the retreating Nazis, had advanced 25 miles northwest of newly-recaptured Prohladnenski to the railway station at Apolonskaya, almost halfway to Mineralnye Vody, the hub of a network of central Caucasus railways.

Paralleling this drive, another Russian column raced northwest from Nalchik, advancing 15 miles to a cluster of towns.

As the Russian offensive surged on without pause, overrunning in hours great stretches of territory which the Germans took weeks to capture last fall, it began to appear that Hitler had ordered a general withdrawal or that the Nazi Caucasus front was collapsing on a wide scale.

The 25-mile advance to Apolonskaya indicated a 55-mile gain for the Russians since the fall of Nalchik Monday night.

A broadcast of Russian communiques, picked up by the Soviet Monitor in London, said the Red armies had captured 13 more towns and two railway stations in the Caucasus and eight more towns in the drive across the middle Don steppes toward Rostov.

One of these towns in the Don valley, Marinsk, lies 92 miles northeast of Rostov and 25 miles west of Tsimlyansk, which the Russians captured Tuesday.

Along with the apparent crumbling of Nazi resistance in the Caucasus and lower Don, Soviet headquarters reported sharpening attacks in the new Russian offensive "west of Stalingrad" where the remnants of 22 Nazi divisions were described as hopelessly trapped.

In this sector, 400 Germans were reported killed in a battle for a hill, but the Russians admitted that the beleaguered Nazis were fighting with desperate fury.

"The enemy is putting up stubborn resistance," the Soviet command reported.

Meanwhile, the German propaganda machine began to break the bad news to the German people, with the elite guard organ, Schwarze Korps, admitting that "belief in a fast, cheap victory was given up in 1942" and warning the nation it should "realize the danger threatening."

The terrible price paid by the Nazi invader was illustrated in Soviet dispatches reporting some 1,300 Germans killed in individual actions during the last 24 hours.

The Russians said 600 Germans were killed in bitter all-night fighting for" a big populated place" in the Caucasus, 400 killed in a single battle on the middle Don Steppes, and 300-500 others slain on the central (Moscow) front, west of Rzhev, where white-clad Soviet ski troops stormed a German garrison.

In North Africa, British headquarters reported a continuing lull in the pursuit of Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa corps in Libya. Italian headquarters noted "increased patrol activity."

Other developments in the global war:

NEW GUINEA—American and Australian troops were credited with killing six Japanese patrols as both sides scouted through deep swamp mud around the Japanese stronghold at Sananda.

Allied artillery and warplanes blasted the dwindling enemy beach corridor for the third successive day, and U. S. bombers again pounded the enemy base farther up the New Guinea coast at Lae.

BURMA — British headquarters in India reported RAF bombers renewed the assault on Japanese positions in the Rathedaung area in Burma, 25 miles north of the big Japanese coastal base at Akyab, inflicting casualties and damage.

No fresh reports were forthcoming on the progress of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's imperial forces driving back into Burma from India, which were last reported at Rathedaung.

Giraud Certain Of Allied Victory

NEW YORK —(AP)— The Dakar radio said today Gen. Henri Honore Giraud, high commissioner for French North and West Africa, declaring the defeat of Germany to be beyond doubt, had urged all Frenchmen to unite to "liberate our fatherland and avenge the infamous treatment inflicted by the Germans on the French people."

CBS recorded the broadcast.

"I am certain of this, Gemany is to be defeated," Giraud was quoted.

"I have a very good and simple reason for being so sure of it. I was a prisoner in Germany, a prisoner visited by high officiers . . . through these contacts I could observe the decline of German might . . . which, in 1942 already, showed clear signs of exhaustion."

Giraud declared 2,500,000 German men had been killed but the Germany army still "is very strong and Germany's internal structure is undoubtedly much stronger than in 1918." Therefore, he said, "I will not lull you into blind optimism. I am sure of victory but I am also sure that the fight will be hard, very hard."

Report Van Arnim Replaces Nehring

LONDON— (U.P.) —Adolf Hitler has changed commanders in Tunisia, Berlin admitted today, and a strong Axis counter-attack has driven British units from hill positions they won 15 miles west of Mateur.

Col.-Gen. Walther Nehring has been supplanted by Col.-Gen. Hans Heinrich Von Arnim, according to a Berlin dispatch to a Stockholm newspaper. It was not clear whether Nehring would remain in Tunisia.

The Berlin radio backhandedly admitted that Von Arnim was in command. A newsreel showed his picture and the comment was that he "was called for the in Tunisia."

The German counter-attack was made yesterday and last night the British withdrew to their original positions in the foothills. The Germans now hold Djel Azzag, a 1,200-foot hill north of the Mateur road, and another hill to the north of that one. The two positions had been in British hands for about 24 hours. Allied strength in the air appeared to be increasing.

Fighter planes and hurricane bombers supported advancing ground forces, and blasted enemy troops and vehicles Spitfires shot down three Focke-Wulf 190's, over the battlefield and later destroyed an enemy bomber and a fourth fighter. The Allies lost one plane.

Congressmen Favor Study of Post-War Aims; Plan Gets Strong Backing.

ping the 40-hour week for duration of the war.

Checking growth of bureaucracy, economy, and legislation to solve the manpower problem were among the demands of legislators.

Rep. Mundt, (R.) S. D., proposed creation of a 32-member post-war planning commission. He introduced a resolution providing that Secretary of State Hull and ex-President Hoover each name eight members and that eight be chosen from the senate and house on a bi-partisan basis.

"It is just as important in time of war to prepare for peace as it is in time of peace to prepare for war," said Mundt. "No one can predict just when this war will be won nor which political party will be charged with writing the peace and directing the period of reconstruction."

Leaders of both political parties pledged a united congress to win the war, but stormy battles over domestic issues were certain. Sen. Shipstead (R.) Minn., called upon congress to reassert its legislative power.

itself, which was the biggest victory to date in the southwest Pacific.

A few hours later the troops were sitting around under the coconut trees, peeling coconuts with the bayonets that took them into the station area.

Today the Americans and Australians mopped up. They combed the coconut groves all round the sector for hours, picking off snipers in the trees and the machine gunners who had remained in their nests, playing possum and pretending they were dead. They do not have to pretend any more.

The last machine gun nest was cleaned out late this afternoon.

Now the burial squads are burying the bodies of our dead. The men who died here will lie on the battle field. A rifle marks each grave.

The Japanese dead were being buried where they fell, some in mass in their trenches. The earth to bury them is being taken from the slit trenches which the Americans and Australians are digging a few feet away as cover from enemy planes.

I never have seen such destruction, and I covered the Bataan and Corregidor campaigns in the Philippines. I have not even seen such destruction depicted in war photographs. Every building in the entire area is in ruins. Some have collapsed, others are still smouldering.

YOUNG AMERICANS THINK WAR WILL LAST AT LEAST 3 YEARS

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— The average American boy and girl believe it will take the U. S. more than three years to win the war.

They own defense savings stamps and bonds.

They spend most of their money in dime stores—and most of it for candy.

Their favorite drink is milk.

Of all foreign countries, they'd like most to visit England when the war is over. The girls, however, have equal preference for Hawaii and Switzerland.

These are the results of the fourth national Reed Poll of America's children, taken in schools, Sunday schools and in YMCA's the last week in January.

Asked how long it would take to win the war, children were more conservative than many adults. Thirty-one per cent of the boys and 33 per cent of the girls said "more than three years."

Twenty-nine per cent said two years and 21 per cent said three years. Only 14 per cent said less than two years.

Sixty-three per cent of boys and 4 per cent of girls polled owned savings stamps or bonds.

More girls than boys spend most of their money in dime stores—37 per cent compared to 44 per cent. Grocery stores came next.

Candy headed their list of purchases—36 per cent of boys and 34 per cent of girls spending their money for sweets. However, 25 per cent of girls spend their money on sundries, such as jewelry, while boys reported no purchases in this field.

Asked to name their favorite drink, 40 per cent of boys and 33 per cent of girls said milk. Neither group expressed much liking for just plain water.

While both groups named England as the country they want most to visit after the war, (boys 18 per cent and girls 14 per cent), 14 per cent of the boys picked Germany. The girls would settle for Hawaii or Switzerland as second choice.

Asked what they would wish if they had a magic ring that would make one wish come true, 42 per cent of boys and 32 per cent of girls said they'd wish the war would end.

Early firearms were named after birds; the word "musket" signified a sparrowhawk.

Scientist Dead

Death has ended the career of Dr. George Washington Carver, noted negro scientist of Tuskegee, Ala., Institute. Dr. Carver, in failing health for several months, was recognized as one of the outstanding scientists in the field of agricultural research. He discovered scores of uses for such lowly products as sweet potatoes, peanuts and clay.

JOINS ARMY THE HARD WAY

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)— Harry Green finally made the U. S. army—but he had to go half way 'round the world to do it.

Harry, 25, who was refused enlistment in the American forces because of his teeth, joined the Royal Canadian Essex Highlanders in May, 1941. Sent to England, he applied for and received a transfer into the U. S. army.

1,000 Ohio Newsmen In Armed Forces; 15 From News-Journal

Mansfield and other Ohio newspapers have contributed some 1,000 newspapermen and women to the nation's armed forces and more are expected to be called soon.

An Associated Press survey of the state disclosed today that Mansfield has a greater percentage of newsmen serving the colors than many Ohio communities of corresponding size.

Of the 15 News-Journal men now in the service, eight have gone from the newsroom, three from the advertising department, two from the mechanical department, and two from the circulation department.

Those from the newsroom are Capt. George P. Sattler, marines; Lieut. Robert E. Rogers, Coastal Air Patrol; Lieut. Harold L. Valentine, signal corps; Corp. Robert Flohr, Corp. Frederick Cliffe, Pvts. Lawrence Murphy and Bud Sprunger, and Seaman Martin Heskett.

From the mechanical department, are Sgt. John Benson and Pvt. Richard Schwab.

The advertising departments have in service J. W. Kerr, second class petty officer in the coast guard, Sgt. Si Wachsberger and Corp. Scott Penrod.

Drawn from the circulation department are Sgt. Robert Boyd and Pfc. Richard Bowden.

The Associated Press said four newswomen—from Cleveland, Columbus, Youngstown and Preble county—have joined the WAACS. All branches of service are represented by the men who have put aside blue pencils or composing room aprons for uniforms.

Cleveland's three daily newspapers have 277 in service; three Columbus dailies have 158, and three in Cincinnati 59. Two Toledo papers listed 51.

Findlay claimed a record for its size on the basis of three former residents having served as foreign correspondents. A total of 11 newsmen are in service from Hancock county.

The former Findlayites are Christy R. Cunningham, now with General Eisenhower in Africa; Ralph Teatsorth in London, and Dwight Pitkin who covered the Spanish Civil war and the early stages of World War II in London but now is in New York.

Several weeklies suspended publication after their editors put aside shears and paste pots for the tools of war. One was the Leesburg (Highland county) Citizen whose publisher, Richard Theobold, joined the coast guard.

Youngstown contributed 14 editorial workers, Marion 14 from all newspaper departments, and a like number left from both Ashtabula and Lorain counties.

Newspaper workers leaving from other counties included: Hardin 11; Tuscarawas and Seneca, 10 each; Stark 9; Crawford 7; Coshocton, Wayne, Athens and Madison, each 6; Miami, Fairfield, Scioto and Columbiana, each 5; Preble, Guernsey and Jackson, each 4; Washington, Wood, Knox, Gallia, Morrow and Brown, each 3; Madison, Fulton, Belmont and Ottawa, each 2, and one each from Vinton, Union, Logan, Perry, Auglaize, Williams, Medina, and Carroll.

PLANS LIBRARY FLORAL EXHIBIT

Garden Club Committee To Furnish Decorations For Book Fair.

Cooperating with the Mansfield Public library in the latter's third annual Book Fair, opening Sunday, the Mansfield Garden Center committee completed arrangements today to furnish floral or decorative displays for each of the 10 United Nations book exhibits.

At a meeting yesterday in the Garden Center room at the library, Mrs. George Holland was elected committee president, to fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Mrs. Louis J. Ott.

Other officers of the group, elected at a previous meeting, are: Mrs. Oliver C. Henkel, vice president; Mrs. Wilmer Gross, secretary, and Mrs. Milton Doolittle, treasurer.

Nine other local Garden clubs are participating in the fair in addition to the committee which will convert the entire Garden Center into an exhibit entitled, "Gardens of the World." Mrs. Henry J. Paulsen will act as chairman for the project.

Other club representatives heading exhibits for their respective organizations and the nations to figure in the displays include: Mrs. Estes Thompson, Johnny Appleseed Garden club, United States; Mrs. H. J. Paulsen, Linneaus club, America's outlying possessions; Mrs. Harry Cave, Mansfield Garden club, British commonwealth.

Mrs. A. R. Perl, Astowela club, Russia; Mrs. Howard Miller, Cottage Garden club, China; Mrs. Verne Henry and Mrs. Al Schwein, Town and Country club, Canada; Mrs. Harry Kaser, Royal Regal club, British Isles; Mrs. L. K. Bower, Mansfield Garden Study club, occupied countries; Mrs. Charles Spreng and Mrs. Stanleigh Vinson, Buckeye Garden club, enemy countries; Mrs. Olive Frey, Audubon club, Latin America.

SAME OLD TOYS

NEW YORK —(AP)— Children a century ago enjoyed much of the same kind of toys that modern youngsters like, it is shown at an exhibit of the New York Historical society.

Tin models of oldtime railroad engines, dolls with hoopskirts, miniature coaches and furniture attest to the perennial popularity of this kind of toy. There is also a display of mechanical banks, which performed complicated evolutions when a coin was deposited. Now they are collectors' items.

Every gallon of gasoline that is wasted by an extra mile on a salesman's schedule, a casual shopping trip, bridge luncheon or vacation jaunt, conceivably blocks the on-time shipment of gasoline that might otherwise have flown a fighter plane and its wounded pilot back to base.—Harold L. Ickes.

Actions, Not Words, Will Count

PRESIDENT WILLIAM GREEN of the American Federation of Labor pledges that labor this year will undertake to double the industrial production of last year. That would be a monumental achievement. It seems impossible when the limitations of man-power are considered. Yet in view of the fact that war production has been quadrupled since Pearl Harbor, the new goal may be taken seriously.

Mr. Green adds that "this program is the expression of the desires of 6,000,000 American workers and their families," and that it is "formulated upon one basic purpose—that everything possible must be done to promote the nation's war effort." He takes pride in "the willingness of America's wage earners to make of their own accord the sacrifices the citizens of a nation must bear in war time." He also points proudly to the fact that time lost in strikes or lockouts has now been reduced to one-tenth of one per cent of time worked.

All this makes an admirable and patriotic recital. Not so admirable, however, in the view of many other Americans, is the federation's opposition to such measures as repeal of the 40-hour working week with its over-pay for additional time, anti-strike legislation for the war period, and the levying of taxes "in accordance with the ability to pay."

Dr. Carver Found Opportunities

SOMETIME, when a youthful cynic, a middle-aged malcontent, or an elderly person engulfed in the gloom of his own failure, sneers when reference is made to America as "the land of opportunity," it will be well to have fresh in mind the story of Dr. George Washington Carver, whose death occurred yesterday.

Born in Negro slavery, probably in 1864, never knowing his own exact age and having only the name bestowed upon him by the owner of his mother, Dr. Carver's amazing accomplishments in the field of science and agricultural research stand as a glowing example of the opportunities for individual initiative that have been open in the past and continue to exist for those who have the ambition, energy and determination to take advantage of them.

Dr. Carver not only surmounted what some of his people regard as racial barriers but he overcame unimaginable childhood difficulties in securing a primary schooling and finally a college education, with a master's degree.

From such a common thing as the peanut he developed more than three hundred useful products and his contribution to southern agriculture and to the aid of his race can probably never be accurately estimated. Just a couple of years ago he donated his life's savings of $300,000 to pave the way for a foundation at Tuskegee Institute, which he had served for more than forty years.

When a record of the life and work of Dr. George Washington Carver becomes available in more complete form—as it surely will—read it throughtfully and thankfully. Thoughtfully, so that you may tell something of it to youths who question the future of America, and thankfully, as you realize that you live in a country where such achievements are possible.

Problem of Absentee War Workers

ONE of the big industrial regions, now completely occupied with war work, reports that last December 7, Pearl Harbor day, one worker out of every 19 was absent from his job. The same ratio was found a week later. A previous survey in November had shown one out of 16 absent. Normal absences, as figured by the War Manpower Commission, would be only one worker out of 40.

The absentee curve always rises on Saturday, and on the day after Christmas it amounted to 30 per cent in some plants.

Ordinarily such reports, while regrettable, would not be regarded as serious. But at a time when the fate of freedom and civilization is at stake, it suggests that too many American workmen either don't know, or don't care, what their absence means to their country and the world.

If they were in the army or navy they wouldn't lay off whenever they felt like it. True, they mostly work hard making these munitions. But they don't work so hard or so long as their friends and neighbors who are fighting in North Africa and the South Seas.

A large majority of workmen understand the situation, accept their responsibility, and do their best for their country. They should exert some patriotic pressure on the laggards.

Tojo's Warning Arouses Doubt

SOME semblance of reason seems to be starting to penetrate the depths of Japanese fanaticism. General Tojo, in his capacity as minister of war, tells his countrymen that the war has just begun and they are in for a long struggle.

They are indeed, but this is the first sign that the military leaders realize that Americans are not push-overs. The first outward sign, that is, for the Japanese preparations have shown so much cool calculation that they can hardly have overlooked America's fundamental strength.

Tojo's warning is explained by the heavy losses of Japanese planes and shipping. Eddie Rickenbacker, who should know, says the quality of Nipponese pilots is deteriorating, and it is easier than it was to knock their planes down. Japan may lay in a heavy stock of war materials, but in many lines she has not the means of getting more when they are gone. Some important ones are going fast.

Tojo's speech must be a shock to the worshipping peasants and workmen who have been taught that Japan was the strongest country in the world, and that the armaments of their enemies had been virtually destroyed. As time goes on, those same peasants and workmen may even begin to doubt the supreme wisdom of their rulers.

Men will be interested in learning that, for the present, shirts are merely to be shortened—but there's no guarantee against losing them next March 15.

Is chewing gum to be rationed—or will there soon be a set of rules explaining how one stick may be made to last indefinitely?

'Lame Ducks' Face Job Scarcity

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—Now is a bad time to be a "lame duck."

I suppose most folk know that a "lame duck" is a senator or representative, who, having been beaten for re-election, is hustling for some executive appointment at a salary sufficient to support him in approximately the style he has become accustomed to as a member of congress.

If he has been a faithful worker for the administration currently in power, a berth usually is found for him. This enables him to gravitate into a secure, permanent job, independently of his home voters, and telling them, in effect, to "go chase themselves" for their failure to appreciate him as their spokesman at the capital. Even if not quite as exciting, it's more comfortable than everlasting campaigning, for term after term.

Well, our present stock of "lame ducks" are virtually exclusively New Dealers, meaning that they have been loyal pluggers for the still-prevailing New Deal executive regime in Washington.

Politically speaking, they ought to be taken care of.

The difficulty is that they are too numerous at present to be provided for.

Never before was the flock so formidable as it's been since last November, with New Deal "ducks" crippled wholesale.

In the form of bureaucratic stunts, there are, to be sure, an unprecedented lot of such duckish hospital accommodations, but the trouble is that they're stuffed full already.

Most Jobs Taken.

The New Deal, reckoning that it had everything available pre-empted, stuffed its bureaus so full that it can't make more room in them except by elimination of earlier incumbents, and that won't do, either. A very, very few new applicants have been squeaked in, but not enough to signify materially.

Another complication is that "lame duckism" already is under severe attack in the new congress.

It is referred to as "personal patronage." A distinction is drawn between the "personal" and "political" kinds, in the political kind's favor. I don't see much difference.

Anyway, a congressional investigation has been started into the "personal" brand's characteristics. Representative Robert Ramspeck of Georgia is engineering it. It's due to throw a serious crimp into "lame duckism."

SOMETIMES our diplomats don't harmonize. I've encountered them at their various local offices. It dates back to long before the first war. There wasn't any sociability between them.

They got along with ME, though—Turks and Japs and all sorts of them.

Germans?—that's different.

But German-Americans?

Well, who is North African boss of the United Nations' forces in his territory, against the Axis? General Eisenhower. Who's the anti-Axis suppliers of Allied supplies against German activities? Why, General Eberstadt.

It seems obvious that a truly Americanized German-American is O. K. even if his name starts with "Eisen" or ends up with "stadt."

There even are some decent Japanese.

I know one who, directly following Pearl Harbor, did his best to volunteer as a doughboy. They did not accept him and I don't exactly know why not. Probably there was some physical count against him, for he was too obviously a pro-Yankee enthusiast to be suspect.

As to good patriotic Italians—we've got oodles of them.

Hidden Gardens

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

I HAVE a little garden. It is hidden under the top of a hill, and there is a high wall about it and tall trees bending over it. The light in my garden is dim and green, like the water in a secret pool—and the air is very sweet. Only seldom does the wind come. And when the rain falls it is as though someone slipped on tiptoe over the moss-grown flags, between the jasmine and the white roses and dark blue yews.

In one corner of my garden there is a small shrine—in memory of one who is dead. And in another there is a basin where little living birds tumble and chatter and fluff bright showers of beads. They are very near to each other—that shrine to death and that basin filled with life. And sometimes, sitting there and thinking about it all, life and death seem very near, too—like one story that goes on and on, through the night and through the day, through starlight and sunrise.

I do a great many things in life. I go a great many places. But I never forget that secret garden, filled with memory and flowers and dreams. But I am certain that, looking at me, you would never suspect that I had such a garden.

You would see a big, careless woman who eats too much and uses slang and does many things which might shock or amaze you. You would say to yourself: "What a coarse creature! Maybe she has a good heart, but what a pity she can't learn a few manners. I wonder why on earth they hire her. It's plain she isn't a lady. She can't possibly understand nice people and things. Maybe she would be jolly to have around, but there's so much she would miss. All the gentle, lovely things one can't talk about and the hurts that really sensitive people feel—she'd never understand those. Queer. I wonder what people like that do feel noisy, efficient people like that, who don't care for the fine things in life."

That, I suspect, is what you would think if you saw me barging along, laughing and eating and raising Cain. You'd try to be nice, but that is what you would really think.

And I'd probably be equally stupid if I saw you, mincing about, being nice and cautious and polite.

"What can that funny little creature know about life?" I'd say. "What can such a pee-wee nature know of the terrors and wonders and witcheries and frail, heart-breaking beauty of life?"

That's what you'd think. And that's what I'd think. And, of course, we'd both be wrong. For we'd both have hidden gardens that held a secret loveliness the world could never see. Hidden gardens that had nothing to do with our work-a-day exteriors.

I have known many lives. Branded lives some of them. Lives that other men had cast out . . . that seemed devoid of every decent, beautiful trait. And yet I have never seen a life that did not have, somewhere, a hidden garden with a shrine and some small pool of sweet water, where life still bubbled and sang.

Dave Boone Says:

THERE'S now talk of vetoing all gasoline "A" cards. If it's necessary it should be done, but just the same any such step will hit the one group of auto owners who have been on the level from the start. It's among the "A" card holders that you'll find all the folks who were content with the least gas, made no piggish claims and didn't go in for wire pulling.

I see where Mrs. Roosevelt says Britain and the U. S. ought to be prepared for food rationing for three years after the war in order to feed the rest of the world. "Peace isn't something that's handed on a platter," she says.

Well it ain't something that's necessarily handed out with a straitjacket, a vacuum cleaner, a Santa Claus outfit and a global housekeeping contract either, is it?

I wish so many speakers these days wouldn't cover so much territory. Building a better world idea is fine but we've got to be careful we just don't build a more cockeyed one.

Blitz Batters Nazi War Machine Pictures Reveal Effect of Raids

—By JOE ALEX MORRIS

Editor's Note: In recent weeks the United Press staff in Europe has culled every available source of information on what is happening inside Germany, with a view to making a report to the outside world. The following dispatch deals with the effect the RAF bombings have had on the reich.

LONDON—Germany is getting what Marshal Hermann Goering's air force tried to give Britain. The blitz is working in reverse, battering the German war machine, disrupting production and hastening the disintegration of civilian morale in the reich.

But nobody, least of all the Royal Air Force, believes that Germany has been smashed by the bombing she has received. That is the program for the future. A half dozen main targets in Germany have been attacked more than 400 times and such places as Rostock have been heavily damaged by concentrated raids.

The most reliable guide to damage done to German cities is the RAF aerial photographic service. Pictures show that between 200 and 600 acres in such cities as Cologne, Duesseldorf, Mainz, and Rostock have been devastated. When the RAF uses the word "devastated," it means that more than 65 per cent of the buildings in the area have been destroyed.

Photographs show that block after block of buildings in Cologne, Luebeck, Osnabrueck and Essen are nothing but shells. There are many burned out factories which the RAF is careful to bomb again as soon as repairs have been almost completed.

Frontier reports show that the Germans make a determined attempt to keep the news of this destruction from the people. Germans must obtain special permission before they are allowed to visit such bomb-stricken cities as Cologne and Duesseldorf. Recently a Turkish journalist who had been specially invited to visit Germany expressed a desire to the propaganda ministry to visit Cologne.

"Why?" asked a propaganda ministry employe. "There is nothing left there to see."

THE German propaganda line now is to attempt to foster hatred against the British for the bombing destruction. The propagadists emphasize that the people now are fighting for their existence and in line with that policy the name of the anti-air defense organization has been changed. It used to be "luftschutz"—air defense. Now it is "selbstschutz"—self defense.

In broad terms, here are some of the effects of the RAF raids:

1. Swedish reports say coal production in the Ruhr has fallen off which in turn reduces steel production and that repair work has consumed a tremendous part of Germany's war energy.

2. German morale in the bombed areas is wobbly. A Swiss correspondent wrote that inhabitants of the Rhineland seemed "obsessed by the horrors of bombardment." Even the German radio after the September raid on Duisburg described the situation this way: "Last night the men and women of Duisburg trembled, their faces were lined and haggard and their words bore witness to their terror."

3. Between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 persons—many of them eligible for front line duty—are tied down as members of the "self defense organization."

4. Actual physical damage can be summarized as follows: Duisburg—One of the largest steel works in Germany has been out of operation since July; Cologne—Bombed 110 times and about one-third of the city is in ruins including an area one mile by a mile and a half which included the industrial section; Mainz—The Germans have acknowledged that the older part of the city has been ruined with seven of 10 houses wrecked; Hamburg—Raided 93 times with submarine construction plants and port facilities heavily damaged; Bremen—Raided 101 times, including one 1,000-plane raid, factory area so devastated that the Focke-Wulf four-engine aircraft works has been moved farther east; Karlsruhe—270 acres of the factory area devastated; Rostock—Heinkel airplane factory knocked out; Luebeck—Germans acknowledge 40 per cent of the town has been devastated; Aachen—Railroad marshalling yards and one-third of the town ruined.

The indirect effect of the bombings shows on the nation's transportation system, particularly railroads. The railroads in Germany still run, an authoritative source said, but they are able now to take care of only 40 per cent of the normal civilian needs.

Other forms of transportation have been hit, too. A Swedish woman arriving at Templehof airdrome tried to get a taxicab and was told she could not have one because she had only three pieces of luggage. She learned that there is a rule that no one may take a cab unless he has at least five pieces of baggage.

Reliable reports say Germany now has only a few more than 10,000 locomotives compared with 21,000 in 1937.

Slowdown In African Campaign Means Period of Preparation

—By GLENN BABB

NEWS from North Africa is likely to make demands on the American reader's patience during the next few weeks or even months. Hopes for a speedy expulsion of the Axis forces from Africa now are shown clearly to have outrun the military possibilities. Obviously we are entering a period of preparation which requires gigantic exertions on both arms of the United Nations' great African pincers before decisive blows can be struck again.

Even were the Allies ready for delivery of what they hope will be the coup de grace to the enemy in Africa, the weather presents obstacles that may persist until the winter is nearly spent. The prospective battlefields will be covered with muck that will make even the lightest tanks helpless.

For perhaps two more months, then, the battle of reinforcement and supply must continue to occupy first place in the African campaigns. Time will not necessarily be on the side of the Allies, for the Germans and Italians have the advantage of much shorter communications lines and there is evidence that they are making good use of this asset.

Assurance that American preparations are proceeding steadily is contained in the announcement that the United States Fifth army has been activated, with Lieut.-Gen. Mark W. Clark, hero of the pre-invasion phase of the African adventure, in command.

The Fifth army is the first American army to operate abroad since the Third army, or army of occupation, was withdrawn from Germany after the last war.

Its inception recalls Pershing's formation of the First American army in France shortly before he launched the St. Mihiel offensive. Pershing retained command of the First army until the Argonne drive was well under way, then he formed the Second army under General Bullard and turned the first over to General Liggett.

The lull in Tunisia is matched in Libya, where day after day there is "nothing to report" from General Montgomery's Eighth army. In Tripolitania as in Tunisia it will take time to gather the power for the next Allied blows.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

(Second of two articles on women in the war effort.)

WASHINGTON — When Mrs. Roosevelt came back from England, she had a great deal to say about the contribution of British women to the war effort. She underscored her opinion that it wouldn't be necessary to have a womanpower draft here.

The War Manpower Commission and the Department of Labor paid a lot of attention to what she said. It hasn't been determined yet whether we will have a registration of womanpower. Actual draft of women is more remote than that. Still, both of these things could happen here soon. That's why the labor department and WMC are studying the English system. The results it has obtained have been remarkable.

If you want statistics, here they are: In Great Britain, of 17,250,000 women between 14 and 65 years old, in late summer about 8,000,000—slightly less than 50 per cent—were in full-time military or war industry jobs.

All women in Great Britain between 18 and 45 have been registered and classified as a potential military and labor force. Single women are subject to draft if they are between 20 and 30 years old. So far, only 20-to-24-year-olds have been called. But there is not much necessity for a draft in a nation when half of the female population, capable of military or industrial service, is already on the job.

IN ENGLAND, the women's draft gives them most of the privileges extended to men. They can appeal for deferment in hardship cases. Every appeal board there contains at least one woman. True conscientious objectors also have the right to deferment.

An important factor is that with the great increase of women in Great Britain's major reforms in improved working conditions. Nurseries are provided for the children of working mothers. Women workers have representation on labor-management committees and much attention is given to improving working conditions and increasing the efficiency of women employes.

ENGLISH girls 18 and over are accepted for war training as freely as men. Employment of women there is under far more government control than in this country. With few exceptions, women between 18 and 30 who accept employment in any other way than through the government employment exchanges or other agencies under government supervision, may be tried and if found guilty are subject to fines.

For the most part, according to British sources here, results in England have been so gratifying and so satisfactorily revolutionary that there is no thought of back-stepping on any of the laws or orders operative today.

The British pattern has made an indelible impression on manpower and other government officials in this country. It is almost certain that it will be followed to some extent in working out industrial and military womanpower probably here.

A Farmer's Diary

Learned By Accident

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

ONE rainy night I saw a wreck. One car was upside down in a deep ditch, another was tilted at the other side of the road. Two patrolmen were present. I stopped and asked if I could help in any way.

"The driver of that car that's upside down was the cause of the trouble," remarked one patrolman to the other. He pointed to a streak well beyond the white line. "See, there's where he was when the two cars came together. He's hurt some, but let's question him."

The middle-aged driver came across to where they were, dazedly. "How'd it happen?" asked the patrolman.

"His lights were so bright—seems like I can't see just where I am when bright lights come toward me. I guessed wrong that time—was anybody hurt much?"

"Your own hand's bleeding. Get in this man's car—he'll take you to a doctor."

LATER, I met the doctor, a friend of mine, and asked about the accident's aftermath.

"That man's a good fellow," he said, "honest and square,—but he doesn't eat right! But if I'd say that lack of good yellow butter, carrots, whole grains, eggs and milk was what made him have that accident, he wouldn't believe me. Many people are almost blind at night—cannot see well at dusk. Alcholics counted out, most other accidents in night driving come from lack of proper nourishment. Eyesight and night diet are more closely related than many people know. It isn't because such food is either expensive or scarce, but just that the average person doesn't know, or feel its importance.

"Why should children go to school before daylight, on winter mornings? Instead of eating a wholesome nourishing breakfast, they grab what is convenient and run for the bus, or hurry, eating as they walk. I find, too, that many eat no breakfast at all—and at noon they eat candy and potato chips, because they can get it quickly.

"Young America, growing up! I'm surprised they grow as well as they do! What's a good grade—or any grade at all, if health is at stake? A long happy useful life comes from: eating a variety of wholesome, simple food. Learning how to eat ought to be part of the school curriculum—and then we doctors could soon go out of business!"

"I guess," said I, "there'll always be need of doctors who are interested in doing the greatest good for the most people—I'm going home and stock up on carrots."

CHAPTER XXIX

Dina had not wanted to come to the Cartwright dance she had wanted only to be an onlooker if he must go at all But upon reaching the Cartwright house all that had been forgotten in sheer joy of youth and music and dancing

Suddenly, in one of the changes of the cotillion, it was Vere who had whirled her away with the old swift mastery she remembered; not looking at her, not speaking, seemingly absorbed in the steps of which he was so easily master

"I didn't know you were here' Dina said in a pause in the music.

'I've not been dancing'

"Come out here a minute,' Vere said suddenly, catching her by the arm and pulling her toward one of the recesses which had been ingeniously contrived and concealed around the pool

"Look here" he said 'I'm sick of this' I'm sick of it' I've been—oh, crazy, since I saw you at Rogers' two weeks ago Dina why won't you forgive me?'

'Forgive you? She widened her eyes her tone was friendly and unruffled

'Yes I've said all I could say—in hell' Why can't we be friends again?

'Why I suppose we can' Dina conceded thoughtfully 'whenever we happen to see each other'

I want more than that' Vere said "You know I want more than that, you know you are the only girl who has ever meant anything to me you know that Rogers and you break up that I'm going to marry you'"

Dina narrowed her eyes, conscious of a wild inner excitement he was playing a part, of course he might pay for this later but it was a dangerous and fascinating part payment could wait

What about Kathryn'' he said impatiently 'She's forgotten me and I've forgotten her'' Vere came to see her the next day, came every day his time as always the before dinner hour he would sometimes play a game of Russian bank with his uncle

He was very much in earnest now, very humble he sometimes brought her a book, once brought Margaret a pair of small white Japanese slippers with pink rabbit ears

Oh thank you' Dina said on this occasion box and tissue paper and slippers in her hands She needs them now that she's grown on the floor so much'

I'd like ever so much to see you sometimes" he once said wistfully Dina made no answer

One night, coming down stairs after putting Margaret to bed she was just in time to see Hinz admitting a late caller A tall dark man whose voice sounded a little hoarse She stood watching a moment and then went forward

Andy," she said

He had flung aside an overcoat and gloves set down a suitcase and took both her hands

'I thought you were in Hollywood painting pictures'

It was Beverly Hills one picture. But it was of three children, and it took me all this time How-how are you?"

The banal question was so throbbing with excitement and his look as it feasted on her face was so eloquent that Dina felt the life and joy and hope thrilling through her veins

"Oh, fine," she answered him almost inaudibly.

"I'm leaving for New York at seven," Andy told her, but I had to come up and just get a glimpse of you Things are going all right with you?"

"Yes—I guess so She was not sure 'Why are you going to New York?"

"Have to Time up and money running out I've got a commission in Hartford and another promised And I've got my little Connecticut place to clean up"

"I've an idea you'd like my place Dina,' Andy said hurriedly You are still Rogers Holland's wife but someday you mayn't be I had to let you know how I felt and that's all I want to say to you now Just that if ever you want me I'll be here in 24 hours

'I will want you' she whispered clinging to his hands

'My darling you don't mean that?' Andy asked doubtfully

'Oh I do I do' I've wanted you all this time'

Quite suddenly she was strained against him and his mouth was hard and hot on hers

He'll give you the baby' I know you'll never leave Margaret'

'He? Oh Rogers, Oh Rogers yes he'll—of course he will

'He seems to adore you"

'He does But—but she's mine Rogers would never—he's so generous—besides,' Dina stumbled on, 'Aline says—he says she said she hoped there'd be other children here someday—she told him that"

He evidently believes everything Aline—well, I was a fool about her a year ago, so I can't say much' the man said 'And now you know what I came to say Dina he added getting to his feet

I'll write you on the plane tonight if you want it in writing'.

I want everything in writing' she said greedily And then with a sudden change of color 'Andy did Aline ever tell you anything about me—about me and Rogers—and Margaret?"

He stood looking down at her steadily His own expression sobered a little.

I think I know what you mean Aline when she was angry once said something—I told her I wasn't interested As a matter of fact, I think I told her to shut up

'Was it that Rogers married me because I had to be married to someone?"

Oh don't repeat such damn gossip''

Dina gripped the lapel of his coat In the soft diffused light of the great hall she looked small and frightened

'Suppose—suppose I said it was true Andy?"

You mean that it is true Dina' Andy said after a moment of silence His voice was grave

Yes it's true'

'That's that' he said 'It explains everything that's puzzled me There's no use talking, he's a good old guy''

He's wonderfully kind'' Dina said fervently

'Now look here darling,' Andy began I've got to go You've told me all I want to know about this and the only thing for you to do is forget it I've already forgotten it'"

"What's that?"

This last word from Dina and addressed to Hinz, who had approached

'Sorry Mrs Holland but Mr Holland had asked for the car to take Mr Vere Holland home Hall is here now'

'Oh that's all right'

Dina led the way to the library Rogers and Vere had just finished their game

'Here's Andy, Rogers she said 'catching the 7 o'clock plane Could Hall take him to it first and then take Vere home?"

'Hello Andy, glad to see you" Vere spoke up Say listen I'm not going home I'm heading for San Francisco, and the airport is right on the way"

Andy went first Dina did not know why, but she had an odd pang of premonitory fear of uneasiness as she saw Vere follow him from the room

AMY HERRON LEONARD WEDS COLUMBUS MAN

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington T. Leonard Announce Marriage of Their Daughter In Kentucky, Dec. 23.

A WEDDING of interest in Mansfield was announced recently in Columbus when Mr. and Mrs. Wellington T. Leonard, 2270 Arlington avenue, told of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Amy Herron Leonard, to Staff Sgt. Brown B. Fox, jr., which was solemnized in the First Baptist church of Winchester, Ky., on Dec. 23.

The Leonard family is well-known in Mansfield, having resided here before moving to Columbus.

Both the bride and bridegroom are at Lockbourne Air Base, where Staff Sgt. Fox is connected with the personnel and administrative departments.

The former Miss Leonard is a graduate of Upper Arlington high school, attended St. Mary of the Springs college, and graduated from Fairfax Hall, Waynesboro, Va.

Staff Sgt. Fox is a graduate of Winchester high school, Winchester, Ky., and attended Kentucky Wesleyan university.

They are residing in the Franklin apartments, 1921 South High street, Columbus.

Mrs. Fox is a sister of W. C. Leonard, 90 Blymyer avenue.

Party and Shower Honors Mrs. Hart

Mrs. Donald Hart, who left Wednesday for her new home in Kimbolten, Ohio, was honored at a going-away party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Metcalf, 8 North street, East Mansfield. Mrs. Gerald Weaver was the associate hostess.

Mrs. Hart is joining her husband who has accepted the pastorate of a church in Kimbolten. Contests were enjoyed during the evening with prizes going to Mrs. Hart, Mrs. William Moritz, and Mrs. Erie Reynolds. Mrs. Hart also received a shower of gifts from the group.

When luncheon was served the guests were seated at a long table attractively decorated with flowers, and centered with a miniature church.

Have Installation Of New Officers

Installation of officers for the coming year was held at the Union Veterans of the Civil War Auxiliary No. 100 meeting last evening in the Memorial building.

The installing officer was Mrs Ethel Miller. The new president will be Mrs. Dorothy Wilmot, vice president, Mrs. Ethel Miller, treasurer, Mrs. Treva Campbell, patriotic instructor, Mrs. Elma Stickler, chaplain, Mrs. Mildred Sherer, guide, Mrs. Catherine Pfieffer, assistant guide, Mrs. Ruth Wilkinson.

Secretary, Mrs. Ella McHugh, color guard No. 1, Mrs. Hazel Brannon, guard No. 2, Mrs. Esther Miller, inside guard, Mrs. Eunice Lamb, outside guard, Mrs. Pearl Pollock, musician, Miss Georgia Cook and counselor, Mrs. Grace Dawns.

Following the installation of officers, a social hour was held and a buffet luncheon served. A patriotic color scheme was used. Mrs. Campbell and Mrs McHugh were in charge. Mrs. Brannon gave two vocal selections, "When the Lights go on Again all over the World" and "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas."

The next meeting will be Jan. 20 in the Memorial building.

Heigh-Ho Club Meets At Staiger's Wednesday

Twenty members of the Heigh-Ho club were entertained Tuesday afternoon at the Staiger tea room on Glessner avenue, with Mrs. William Roth and Mrs. C. Herrick presiding as hostesses.

Luncheon was served, followed by bridge games, with Mrs. Roy Webber, Mrs. Emil Zimmerman, Mrs. George Marks, Mrs. John Kennedy and Mrs. Herrick receiving score prizes.

Mrs. William Karrer and Mrs. Kennedy have invited the members to be guests at another luncheon-bridge at the tea room Feb. 2.

"Civilian Defense" Theme of P.T.A.

"Civilian Defense" was the theme of Wednesday evening's Parent-Teacher Association meeting, when Allen Harman, assistant chief air raid warden spoke.

Mr. Harman gave a clear picture of the historical background of the movement and the definite set-up as it has been developed in Mansfield and immediate vicinities. An open discussion brought out much of further interest in the work.

The regular session of the association preceded the talk. A report of council meeting was given by Mrs. Alverson. The work of the school safety council was reported by Miss Elaine Hartley, president, and John Fighter, treasurer of that organization.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, the chairman of which is Miss Conn, and a group of fifth grade mothers. Mrs. C. L. Green won the attendance award.

Barbara Schneider Weds Ashlander On Christmas Day

Announcement was received today of the marriage on Christmas day of Miss Barbara Schneider, former resident of this city, and daughter of J. E. Schneider, 257 West First street and the late Mrs. Schneider, to Pvt. William J. Ekey of Ashland.

The wedding vows were solemnized in Cordele, Ga., at the home of Rev. J. A. Coalson of the First Baptist church of Cordele. Attending the couple were Miss Dortha Ekey, of Ashland, a sister of the bridegroom, and Ed Jones, who lives in Cordele.

Mrs. Ekey attended Mansfield Senior high school, and since her graduation has been employed at the Star Telephone company in Ashland.

Pvt. Ekey is a graduate of Ashland high school, and before his induction into the U. S. Army last June was an employe in the drafting room of the F. E. Myers and Brothers company in Ashland. He is now stationed with the Army Air Corps at Cochran Field, Macon, Ga. Mrs. Ekey will reside in Ashland for the present. Pvt. Ekey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Ekey of Ashland.

Mrs. Breckenridge Is Speaker At Sorosis Club

Mrs. Frank Breckenridge traced the history of the American Indian from the earliest tribes to the present time before Beta chapter of the Mansfield Sorosis club at the home of Mrs. Stewart Baird, Crescent road, Wednesday night.

She called attention to the various customs of the tribes, the early crude methods used in preparing foods and the use of seed. She also told the legend of the origin of corn. Pictures of tribal heads were also displayed.

Mrs. Walter Mickey, president, conducted the business session and called attention to the Public Library book fair, Jan. 10-17.

Mrs. Eugene Linham, Glenwood boulevard, will be hostess, Jan. 20.

FOURTEEN PRESENT.

Fourteen members of the Reminiscence club attended the regular meeting at the home of the Misses Ida and Anna Hunter, 240 Walter avenue, Wednesday afternoon. Bunco was played with Mrs. Ralph Domer, Mrs. Glenn Heston and Mrs. Bertley Mahan winning the prizes. The club prize went to Mrs. S. B. White. Another meeting, Feb. 3, will be with Mrs. A. C. Ferrell, 296 Marion avenue.

MRS. WARREN ULLOM IS NEW SORORITY LEADER

Officers of Beta Chapter Chosen at Covered-Dish Dinner; Mrs. Lowell Moore, Bowland Road, Hostess.

MRS. WARREN ULLOM will serve as the new president of Delta chapter, Gamma Gamma Gamma sorority, following the annual election of officers Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lowell Moore, Bowland road.

Other club members chosen to serve with Mrs. Ullom are Mrs. Earl Herrick, vice president; Mrs. Frank Mengert, secretary, and Mrs. Lionel Smaltz, treasurer.

Preceding the business meeting and election, the group enjoyed a covered-dish dinner, served at small tables centered with lighted tapers, and other appointments in yellow.

One of the highlights of the evening was the disclosure of the names of the members' secret "Maudies," and the drawing of new names for the coming year.

Bridge provided the diversion for the remainder of the evening with gifts for high scores being won by Mrs. Ullom, and the hostess.

The group will join the other four chapters of the sorority for a joint meeting and election of oficers at the Mansfield-Leland hotel Jan. 27, while the next regular meeting of Beta chapter will be at the home of Mrs. Parker O'Brien, Raleigh avenue, with Mrs. Harry Rist serving as associate.

MRS. OTT SPEAKER.

Mrs. Louis J. Ott was guest speaker at the meeting of the Temple Emanuel Sisterhood Tuesday at the Temple. Her interesting topic was "Playing Cards and Their History." Twenty-five members were present for the meeting which opened with a dessert luncheon, for which Mrs. L. Goler and Mrs. Harry Goldman were hostesses. Another meeting, Jan. 19, at the Temple, will be dessert-card party, with Mrs. Norman Kann and Mrs. S. Doptelt in charge.

AT LEGION HOME.

The Blue Star Mothers and Wives club met at the American Legion home Tuesday evening, at which time plans were made for a benefit bridge party to be staged in February. Mrs. A. C. Forsyth, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Women of Moose Meet Wednesday

A special meeting for the nomination of new officers was planned Wednesday evening when Women of the Moose, chapter 47, met in the Moose home, with Mrs. Helen Perry, senior regent, in charge.

Reports of the various committees were made by Mrs. Nannie Lowman, Mrs. Hazel Altman, Mrs. Leta Hageman, Mrs. Hazel Tupps, Mrs. Blanche Cantrell, Mrs. Grace Lehner, Mrs. Esther Wiparina, and Mrs. Regina Gresser.

Mrs. Mabel Keller announced that her committee would assume the dues payments of members who have joined the WAACs. Mrs. Joan Herf will be in charge of the covered-dish dinner on Feb. 1, while the next regular meeting will be Jan. 20, when the academy of Friendship committee will present its Chapter Night program. This meeting to be formal and closed, will be held jointly with the Loyal Order of Moose. New members will be initiated, with Mrs. Gresser in charge.

Wednesday Study Club Hears Mrs. Bromfield

An interesting and informative paper on "India" was presented by Mrs. Louis Bromfield when the Wednesday Study club met yesterday at the Women's Club, with Miss Mariel Aberlee as hostess.

Following the program tea was served in the dining room, with Mrs. Jay Dirlam and Mrs. Burton Preston presiding. Mrs. Hubert Tappan was welcomed as a new member. The next meeting will be Jan. 13, at the home of Mrs. Jay Dirlam.

Pompadour Styles Lend Variations

Score one for the pompadour, it lends itself to many variations You can have it high, low or middle-spaced You can part it You can bank it up at one end and let it go narrow at the other. You can have it waved or unwaved, as your little heart desires But whatever you do, take into consideration the shape of your face, and regard your nose. The hairdress can do a lot for a nose that is too long or too short.

When the face is round and full it is beauty misdemeanor to pull the pomp down over the forehead The straight across line makes the face appear wider and shorter. All right for the long face or the oval one If the forehead is unusually high or protruding it may be wise to cover it partially The center parting is not suitable for a full, round face, but the side parting is Sleeking the hair back straight at the sides increases the width of the face at the line of the cheeks. While an upped roll at one side of the forehead and large soft rolls at either side will give the portrait more pleasing lines

The straight back waved arrangement makes large features look larger. Certainly it calls attention to them. A little softness is essential

The small-faced girl with delicate features is often inclined to affect the bushy, bouncing hair dress—hair lifted fuzzily in front, fluttering curls at the side, the bob to the shoulders This forms too large a frame for her so that her face seems even smaller than it is

She of the long and thin face is improved by bangs A softly waved fringe to curtain the forehead curtails length She can pull her pomp down as far as she pleases Mustn't wear it lifted Nor should she regale herself with one of those nutty hats with a tall narrow crown.

The mirror should tell a woman what coiffure is best but what can the mirror do if she has not the seeing eye and the receptive mind? Not a thing!

There is the back view of the coiffure to be considered If you have a bob that is three or four inches long in the real you should court it upward if the neck is short and fat, turn it under if the neck is slender The page boy effect increases the size of the head.

Exaggerated styles are fatal to any woman who hasn't dress flare They call attention to any irregularity of contour also to features that are not beautiful Somehow they do not suit these times when women are hurried with varied duties. Some moments must be spent before the dressing table but why be lavish with them when there is much work to be done?

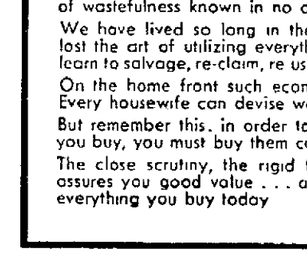
"The Authority on Authorities"

TELL HIM THE STORY

There is no use in giving your partner insufficient information to guide him, when you have a really important story to tell When you feel certain a game is in the cards for your side, and you desire to play for it at the best-fitting suit, it usually will pay you to make that emphatic Nothing is more effective for that purpose, after the opponents have done some bidding, than making a call in one of their suits Any thinking player can understand that.



(Dealer South. North-South vulnerable)

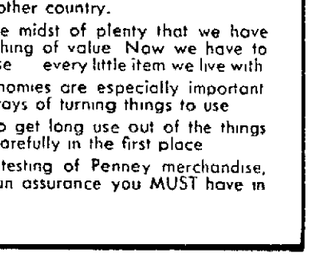
Pass	2 ♥	Dbl	4 ♥
Pass	Pass	Dbl
2. Pass	1 ♣	Dbl	1 ♥
Pass	2 ♥	3 ♥	4 ♥
5 ♦	Dbl

What a difference in the way North treated the situation at the second table in the bidding recorded At that table were two of New York's greatest masters, who were playing in a social duplicate in the suburb of Larchmont When the not-vulnerable opponents had shown such a heart fit, and he himself had three of the suit, North felt sure his partner had at the most only a singleton, so there could not be any heart loser.

Also, with his own singleton, there would be no more than one club loser Two bids of the other suits made him certain his partner would have length in either spades or diamonds, possibly in both so when his second turn came he was ready to compel a game in one of these That is exactly what his own bid of 3-Hearts meant—that he was willing to venture a game in spades or diamonds, whichever South preferred no matter how weak South was

It assuredly turned out as he expected with the loss of only one trick in each minor suit, giving his side a doubled game for a top score.

Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer South East-West vulnerable)

After South bids 1-Heart on this deal North 1-No Trump and East doubles, what should South do?

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

It doesn't matter which it is" I told Mary firmly, catching her by the shoulder as she started toward the door "I am going to answer this call Please do not hinder me.

"I am not going to run any chances," I added hastily "I will stand back of the door and open it only the length of the chain. As soon as I hear the voice outside I shall know what to do"

'Suppose it's Steve?' she said "I'm not going to let you—"

'Be reasonable, Mary'" I adjured her." There isn't a chance that your father-in-law has even seen Steve yet"

"I suppose you're right" she said submissively, and stepped back while I opened the door to the length of the chain.

"Who is there?" I asked, feeling a bit foolish at remaining unseen.

"Adams, Mrs Graham," a familiar voice said, and I immediately admitted not only Adams but another man as keen looking and as powerfully built

"This is Winters Mrs Graham," Adams said "Your father thought it would be better if he came up here, as he needs me"

After Mary had put up the chain again, I took the two men behind the door marked exit and explained what I wished.

"Your job will be a waiting one," I told Winters "unless either my niece or I calls to you, or you see a man acting suspiciously in front of her door, which you can see through this crack I'll get you a chair"

Must Watch Redfield.

"No need for that," Winters said sheepishly. "I always carry a chair with me, when I have any job like this," and he unfolded a contraption so cunningly packed that it was hardly noticeable when hung from his arm.

"Anybody particular you want me to look out for?" he asked.

"Yes Do you know Mr Stephen Redfield by sight?"

'The actor? Sure, I know him when I see him

"He is the man I wish you to watch," I said, "also any other man you may see acting suspiciously But first, do you know Mr Philip Veritzen Mr Noel Veritzen and Mr. Spencer by sight?"

"Yes all of them."

"That simplifies matters" I said "for they are the only men likely to come here today, unless as we fear, Mr. Redfield should come."

"What do you want me to do if he does?" Winters asked.

More Instructions.

"Watch him carefully, and follow any clue I give as I talk to him across the night chain of the apartment door. But if I start to undo the chain, come noiselessly up and enter the apartment immediately behind Redfield I will fumble with the chain to give you plenty of time If he doesn't turn ugly, you will have nothing to do but sit quietly until he leaves, then take up your guard again until Mr. Spencer sends you a relief."

"Okay, I get you," and the imperturbable Winters sat down in his folding chair almost before Adams and I had left.

'Please tell my father I thank him, and am sure everything will be all right now," I said and when Adams had gone I went back to Mary, who locked the door and put me firmly into a chair

"Now she said "the citadel is guarded and I am waiting to hear your real reason for coming over"

I gave her a slow, appraising look

'I came to see how much feminine vanity—no, that isn't the word; pride is better—you are willing to sacrifce for Olina," I said

O. K. PAY RAISE

GALION — With the formation of the new 1943 Galion city appropriation, members of city council have authorized a 10 per cent wage increase for non-elective employes of the city. Totaling $443,379, the budget is increased $12,175 over last year. The wage increase will amount to about $16,000.

Appropriations set aside by the city council are: general fund, $83,274; hospital, $49,700; water, $53,885; electric, $217,790; street maintenance and repair, $7,500; bond retirement, $17,280; and special assessments, $1,950.

PROBATE WILL

Mrs. Mary J. Horn Leaves All Property To Husband.

MILLERSBURG — The will of the late Mary J. Horn of Lakeville has been admitted to probate. It stipulates that after the payment of the funeral expenses and debts are paid, all of the rest of the property is left to her husband, John W. Horn.

Should he not survive at his death, a daughter, Helen Wachtel of Lakeville, is to receive the homestead property in Lakeville and the adjoining vacant lot, subject that she pay to her brother, Lloyd Horn, the sum of $500 within a year.

To a son, Glenn Horn, there is given the house and lot known as the Thompson property in Lakeville. All the remainder of the estate if left to the children, Kay Horn, Lloyd Horn, Glenn Horn, and Helen Wachtel, in equal shares, except the household goods to the daughter with the request that she gives to her brothers what she does not need for her own use. The will was made Dec. 5, 1935.

GROUP MEETS IN FREDERICKTOWN

FREDERICKTOWN — The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church met Wednesday for the January meeting. Luncheon was served at the church to 18 members and guests. Mrs. Walter McGinley was chairman of the luncheon committee.

Business was in charge of the president, Mrs. Eva McGregor. Mrs. Bruce T. Riley conducted the devotionals, assisted by Mrs. Willard Mayer at the piano.

The society voted to continue holding its meetings on the first Wednesday of the month.

Mrs. Don Rose had charge of the following program: talk on Costa Rica and Panama by Miss Winifred Rush; story "The Star" by Mrs. Steven McKee, and a talk on W. S. C. S. meetings in California attended during her recent visit there by Miss Mabel Fawcett of Mt. Vernon. Miss Fawcett brought greetings from several former Fredericktown residents in California.

BORN AT CRESTLINE

CRESTLINE — A daughter, who has been named Sandra Kay, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ryan, Mansfield, R. D. 6, Wednesday at Crestline hospital.

LEGION MEETS

CRESTLINE — McWhorter Post, American Legion, held a dinner and social meeting for members at the Legion club Wednesday evening. Edwin Stump was chairman of the committee in charge.

John King Named To Post With Big Four at Galion

GALION — John D. King of Bellefontaine has been appointed assistant trainmaster of the Big Four railroad to succeed Donald B. Fleming, who was transferred to the Columbus terminal.

King is residing at 305 North Market street temporarily, until his wife and two sons, now living in Bellefontaine, join him.

King is well known in Galion, having served in state offices of the Knights of Columbus organization for six years. He formerly was night general trainmaster in Springfield.

CONDUCT RITES FOR REGISTRAR

Mrs. Williamson, 45, Dies In Millersburg Hospital; Was In Charge of Auto Tags.

MILLERSBURG — Funeral services for Mrs. June Williamson, 45, wife of Clarence Williamson, who died at Pomerene Memorial hospital Tuesday morning from an infection, will be held at the Elliott funeral home Friday at 2 p. m. Rev. Darwin Marion Haynes, pastor of First Presbyterian church, of which she was a member, will officiate. Burial will be in the Oak Hill cemetery.

Born in Mechanic township, Holmes county, June 26, 1897, a daughter of the late William C. and Mary Patterson, she married Mr. Williamson June 5, 1917. He survives together with three daughters, Mrs. Cloyd Fair, Mrs. Denver Mohler of Millersburg, and Miss Joye Williamson of the home; two grandchildren, two brothers, Russell Patterson of Canton and Ralph Patterson of Millersburg; two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Sowash and Mrs. Ethel Uhl, Millersburg.

Mrs. Williamson was an outstanding Grange worker. She was a charter member of the Hardy Grange, member of the Holmes county Pomona Grange, and the state and national granges. At the time of her death she was the deputy registrar of motor vehicles for Millersburg.

She was taken to the hospital last Sunday in a serious condition after several days' illness at her home on South Crawford street.

COUPLE MARKS ANNIVERSARY

LAKEVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Crow celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary recently in their home near town.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burns and John Ruby of Marion; T. L. Losey of Mt. Gilead; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Patterson and Mrs. Anna Smetzer and Gilmore Witt, of Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hostetler, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Jordon, Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Mackey, Mrs. Leona Gissin, C. H. Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Uhl, Mr. and Mrs. John Graven and Mrs. Ruby Walter, all of Millersburg, and Mr. and Mrs. John Jeffries of near town.

Refreshments were served, including a huge wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom. The couple received many lovely gifts.

DIES AT 91

FREDERICKTOWN — William Bradford Mann, 91, died at his home here, Wednesday noon, after an extended illness.

He is survived by one son, Linden Mann; two grandchildren; two great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Minnie Hoover of Croton.

Services will be Friday at 2 p. m. at the Bollinger Funeral home with Rev. A. M. Bosler of Chesterville officiating. Burial will be in Chesterville cemetery.

CASE SETTLED

ASHLAND — Suit of A. W. Matthes vs. Cleveland Dairy Products company and the Echo Dairy company, scheduled for jury trial in Ashland common pleas court yesterday, was settled and dismissed after a jury had been selected to hear the case. Matthes sought $218.56 for milk delivered to the Echo dairy which at a crossing with the Echo Dairy company claimed $850 damages for alleged failure of contract and asked $382 as the difference between the amount claimed by Matthes and the damage claim.

BUCYRUS BANK 35 YEARS OLD

BUCYRUS — The Farmers and Citizens bank, established and organized in 1907, observed its 35th anniversary this week.

Organized with total resources of $153,175, the institution now lists resources of $2,473,066.

H. E. Kies is president of the bank and T. M. Kennedy, vice president. Directors are S. G. Angene, J. E. Faulkner, W. P. Fralick, E. C. Heinle, H. E. Kies, J. E. McLaughlin, Walter J. Michael, Samuel Ulmer, John P. Wyer, and T. M. Kennedy.

SCHOOLS CLOSE

BUCYRUS — Snow and ice, which have made driving on many of the county's side roads hazardous, closed three Crawford county schools this week.

New Washington, Lykens and Chatfield schools have remained closed as bus drivers reported dangerous driving both on the side roads and at the railroad crossings.

GOES TO CRASH SCENE

GALION — Mrs. Amy Hillis, of Cromenwett road, has left for Panama City, Fla., to join her daughter, Mrs. Alvie Vaughen, whose husband was drowned when his plane dived into the Gulf of Mexico Monday.

WALKS 10 MILES TO ASHLAND TO BE BLOOD DONOR

Savannah Woman, 56, Keeps Her Promise to Appear; 304 Contribute.

ASHLAND — Three hundred and four Ashland county persons donated blood to the Red Cross Blood Donor Mobile unit during its two-day visitation in Ashland Monday and Tuesday. According to Mrs. F. H. Hammon, publicity director of the Red Cross chapter, at least 24 of these donors will receive silver pins for their third donation of a pint of blood.

Among those who received a blood donor badge for their second donation was Mrs. Nettie Harpster, 56, of near Savannah, who walked 10 miles over icy roads to make her contribution. Mrs. Harpster's car bogged down in the lane at her home, which is two miles northwest of Savannah, on Monday morning when she started to Ashland to make her second blood donation.

"Having made up my mind to come," she started out walking and made the trip to Ashland on foot and arriving at the Methodist Education building, headquarters for the Mobile Unit, donated her pint of blood.

Not regarding this as anything extraordinary, Mrs. Harpster planned to walk home and it was only after much persuasion that she consented to be driven home in a car of Mrs. Guy C. Myers, vice chairman of the Ashland county Red Cross chapter.

This was the third visit of the Blood Donor unit to Ashland.

SCHOOLS CLOSE FOR FUNERAL

ASHLAND — Ashland schools closed at 2:30 p. m. today in order that teachers may attend funeral services for Miss Eleanor Alice Shank, 27, teacher in Osborn school here, who died Monday night at Samaritan hospital following an operation.

Short services for Miss Shank were conducted at her home, 314 Eighth street, at 1:45 p. m. and regular services were conducted at 3 p. m. at the Church of Christ. Rev. Frank W. Brown, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Ashland cemetery.

YOUTH, 21, DIES

CRESTLINE — Funeral services for Clifford Bruce, 21, of Tiro, who died Wednesday morning at Crestline Emergency hospital will be conducted Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the United Brethren church in Tiro.

The pastor, Rev. Bennett, will officiate, and burial will be in Good Will cemetery north of Tiro.

Returns to U. S. For First Visit Here In 24 Years

WILLARD — Elza Leopard, in government service at Hilo Island since World war I, is spending some time with relatives here.

He will report for duty at Salt Lake City March 5, but is uncertain whether he will be returned to Hilo or stationed in Alaska.

This is his first visit to the United States in 24 years.

NAMED AGAIN

Dr. G. B. Fuller Keeps Post In Ashland County.

ASHLAND — Mrs. Nellie Desenberg has been named clerk to the Ashland county board of health succeeding Samuel C. McKinley, who resigned last month, the health board announced. McKinley had been clerk since 1920.

Mrs. Desenberg was formerly employed as clerk in the office of the county school superintendent.

The health board has re-elected Dr. G. B. Fuller of Loudonville as county health commissioner, a position he has held since 1920. Mrs. Ruth Daum was re-elected county health nurse in which position she has served since 1921. Mrs. Daum's and Mrs. Desenberg's terms are for one year while Dr. Fuller's appointment is for two years.

RETAINS OFFICERS

MILLERSBURG — The Clark board of education held the reorganization meeting this week with the same officers re-elected for the year. They are Bert Giauque, president; Roy Patterson, vice president; M. L. Casey, clerk. Other members, Mrs. Ruby Buren, Elmer Miley and Owen Mullet.

BRIDGE FALLS IN CREEK BED

Crawford Commissioners Plan Wooden Structure To Replace It.

BUCYRUS — The board of county commissioners today was considering reconstruction of the 28-foot bridge over Allen Run, west of Crestline, which collapsed under the weight of a bulldozer belonging to the O'Connor Construction company which is being used in building a side track at the Pennsylvania tracks. The bridge collapsed Monday, dropping the machine and driver to the river bed where the steel understructure held it above the water.

Priority on steel may make it necessary to reconstruct the bridge of wood, commissioners stated.

BOND SALES OVER GOAL

BUCYRUS — Crawford county's Victory fund drive, started the middle of December netted close to three million dollars in war bonds, a final check on the figures showed today. A total of $2,843,883 in bonds pushed the county over the original $1,900,000 quota, by more than 50 per cent.

W. A. Blicke served as county chairman of the campaign.

Splendid Cough Syrup Easily Mixed at Home

It's So Easy! Makes a Big Saving. No Cooking.

To get quick and satisfying relief from coughs due to colds, mix this recipe in your own kitchen. Once tried you'll never be without it, and it's so simple and easy.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, known for its effect on throat and bronchial membranes.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid medicine and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, it is amazing. You can feel it take hold in a way that means business. It loosens phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

HUNDREDS OF OHIO LIVES SAVED BY WAR

Tire and Gasoline Rationing Cut Traffic Deaths Nearly 50 Per Cent In State.

(By Associated Press)

War, bearer of mass death on battlefronts, ironically saved hundreds of lives in Ohio during 1942.

Traffic deaths were down almost 50 per cent from 1941, and officials said the reason was simple enough: There was less travel because of gasoline, tire and automobile rationing; there was less speed because of the 35-mile limit.

An Associated Press survey in 87 of Ohio's 88 counties showed today only 1,612 persons were killed in traffic accidents during 1942, virtually slicing 1941's all-time record of 3,149 in half. The missing county was Lawrence, where 14 were killed in 1941.

Top laurels went to Meigs county—Coroner Henry Ewing said not a single traffic fatality was recorded there compared with five in the preceding 12 months. Adams was a good second, recording only one death against 12 the year before.

Only 12 counties exceeded their 1941 death toll, and surprisingly enough, only one of these blamed it on the influx of war workers and the accompanying increase in traffic flow. That was Greene county, where a new record of 31 fatalities was set, three better than last year. Important airbases and war plants are in that area.

Xenia, Greene county's seat, had a perfect safety record itself until 12 days before the year ended; then two pedestrian fatalities spoiled it.

Other counties showing an increase were Ashland, Clark, Crawford, Highland, Holmes, Jackson, Sandusky, Van Wert, Vinton, Putnam, and Noble.

Most of them reported "carelessness" as the principal fault, while officials in Highland said liquor played a role, too.

The greatest decline in actual number was recorded in Cuyahoga, Franklin, Stark and Portage counties, although their percentage of decrease was not so great as in some smaller counties. Cuyahoga, with its heavy Cleveland traffic, fell 49 deaths to 205, while Franklin, Stark and Portage each was down 42 deaths. Columbus, in Franklin county, ended 1942 with a total of only 34 deaths, the lowest figure in the 17 years of available records.

Ohio traffic deaths for 1942, as compared with those for 1941 (in parenthesis) follow, by counties:

HIGH COURT TO REVIEW 'SHARE THE RIDE' CASE

Will Consider 'Responsibility Test' Suit On Merits After Hearing Arguments.

(By International News Service)

COLUMBUS—Reversing precedent in announcing its decision from the bench, the state supreme court has decided to review on its merits the famed Cleveland "share-the-ride" case, to determine the degree of responsibility of the driver who carries other war workers to and from work for an agreed share of the gasoline and oil expenses.

Following 30 minutes of oral argument, Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt canvassed the other members of the court and announced the case would be admitted to review.

It is believed to be the second "share-the-ride" case to reach a supreme court test in the nation. In Michigan the highest court of that state ruled last May that the "guest statute," which holds the driver responsible for damages only if he is guilty of "wilful and wanton misconduct," was binding.

In the friendly Cleveland test case sponsored by the Cleveland Bar association, Thomas Fairley and Walter Kulavick, workers at the Standard Oil company's Cleveland plant and passengers in the auto of Joseph C. Miller, appealed from a declaratory judgment in Miller's favor. The decision held that the relationship between them was that of host and guest, despite the payment of a contract fee of 20 cents a day each for transportation to and from the plant.

If the courts had held that the guest statute did not prevail and that Miller was serving in effect as a public carrier because of the fee, the driver would be liable for damages in any accident in which he did not exercise "ordinary" care. This would make the degree of responsibility many times greater.

The lower courts held that the 20-cent fee, which was understood mutually to be only a share of the gas and oil expense, was "not substantially commensurate with the cost of transportation," since no provision was made for depreciation on tires or motor.

Hence, the lower courts held, the contract did not take the parties out of the relationship of host and guest.

Both the Office of Civilian Defense and the Office of Defense Transportation have filed briefs in support of Miller's case.

MISS COFFEE

Rationing Felt By Navajo Indians In West.

GALLUP, N. M.—(INS)—Nearly 50,000 Navajo Indians, all confirmed coffee drinkers, located in western New Mexico and eastern Arizona, are complying with coffee rationing to help win the war, Indian traders report.

Gallup is the only town in the southwest where a carload of one brand of coffee is shipped. Once they take to a brand the Indians never change.

Coffee fills an important part in all ceremonies and coffee pots are kept filled during Indian dances.

During lean years on the reservations, coffee, mutton stew and bread make up the regular diet.

Makes Shoe Soles From Rayon and Plastic Material

CINCINNATI—(INS)—A new shoe soling material made of silk rayon and moulded with non-vital plastic material, which can be grown in anyone's backyard, was displayed here by Elliott E. Simpson who has produced it.

The new soling contains no rubber and completely replaces rubber and leather soles.

"While silk rayon can now be used for more expensive shoes," Simpson explained, "and gives better service than leather or rubber, it still is not as practical as cotton in automobile tires, as has been recommended in Washington."

GRAND, PETIT JURORS DRAWN

Common Pleas Court Attaches Draw Panels For New Term of Court Hearings.

Among the first business of the Richland county common pleas court this week was the drawing of the petit and grand jury panels.

The date when the new jurors will be called to service has not yet been set. Members of the September panels will continue to serve during the present term of court.

Grand jurors drawn were: Grace Brand, Ruth Grimm, William Worley, Carl V. Myers, Raymond Dewey, Winfield Bonnell, John Tucker, Sarah Ford, Ira Garverick, H. C. Kochendorfer, Nellie Stalzgaber, Hazel Butzlaff, Milo Patterson, Pearl Conder and Lester H. Rain.

Petit jurors drawn included: C. F. Nelson, Albert W. Gore, Hugh McMeeken, William Traugler, Homer L. Bigbee, Irella Wappner, Russell Moore, L. L. Russell, Carl Hubner, Frank Harmon, W. W. Crouch, S. H. Leiter, H. J. Haup, Ann Keller, James R. Anderson, Arthur Appleman, Henry Volg, Archie Cornell, Norma Statler and Howard Ross.

Some statisticians estimate that the population of South America, which in 1940 was about 100,000,000, will double in the next 29 years.

USE SUN HEAT

WASHINGTON — (AP) — When fuel conservation emerged as a major problem, Uncle Sam harnessed the rays of the sun to help heat the enormous new War Department building at Arlington, Va.

Light sensitive devices installed on the roof by engineers react to the intensity of the sun and in turn control the building's heating system. Thus, if one section is flooded with brilliant sunshine the temperature in that section is automatically reduced to compensate for the warmth-giving rays.

WAR SPURS STUDENTS

AUSTIN, Tex. —(U.P.)— The University of Texas students worked harder and made better grades after this nation went to war. Records of the registrar's office reveal that both boys and girls made better grades in 1941-42 than in the preceding year. Girls still were better students, but their marks did not advance as rapidly as boys' after Pearl Harbor.

BEDROOM SUITES
in a Clearance Sale

CHOICE $69 to $79 and up

* MOSTLY 3-PC. SUITES IN SALE

Our Regular Values On Sale While Supply Lasts at These Prices

We have arranged two large groups of beautiful bedroom suites on our floors for quick sale in this great clearance. Practically all woods, styles and finishes represented. In most cases, only one suite of a kind. Excellent values, but you must hurry! Come tomorrow for a good selection.

This May Be YOUR LAST CHANCE

It is doubtful if an opportunity like this will be seen again for many years . . . perhaps never! As the war curtails the manufacture of furniture, bargains will become increasingly rare.
